

The Paducah Daily Sun

VOL. X. NO. 3.

PADUCAH, KENTUCKY., SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1903.

10 CENTS PER WEEK.

WAS HELD FOR ARSON

Miss Clemmons Denied the Charge on the Stand Today.

Has About Recovered From His Attempt to Kill Himself a Few Days Ago.

HE WENT BACK TO JAIL

Since Clemmons, colored, who was arrested several days ago in the lower part of the county on a charge of arson, was tried this morning before Justice Jesse Young at the latter's place or legal row and held to answer, going to jail in default of a $500 bond. Clemmons had been at work on County Surveyor Wrenn's farm near Woodville for quite awhile. A short time ago the surveyor's barn was burned, together with much tobacco, all uninsured, and Clemmons was suspected.

Early this week the house in which Clemmons himself lived, on the Wrenn farm, was burned, and the same morning Clemmons was arrested. When confronted with the charge by two residents he pulled out a knife and attempted to kill himself by cutting his throat, but only succeeded in inflicting two ugly wounds.

The evidence this morning showed that Clemmons, who claimed to have been drunk the night of the fire, slept in the north room, while the fire originated in the south room. The lamp and coal oil can were found in the south room, while the proof showed they were kept in the north room. Clemmons' clothing was found in the yard.

He denied setting fire to the house, saying that the blaze probably started from a crack in the bottom of the stove. When he awoke the house was so far gone that he could save very little. He said he didn't notify Mr. Wrenn or the nearest colored man because they both kept bad dogs, so he went to a neighbor's and spent the remainder of the night, and while on his way to Mr. Wrenn's was arrested. He said that the reason he attempted to kill himself was that when he was accused of setting fire to the house he thought he might as well end it all then and there as to have such a charge made against him.

The final trial of the case will not come up until April. Many people of that section claim the negro is crazy, and no motive has been shown for setting fire to anything.

STARTS MONDAY.

NEW LAUNDRY READY FOR OPERATION NEXT WEEK.

The new Paducah laundry, at Fifth and Jefferson streets, is ready for operation and will start Monday morning. Mr. O. E. Griddle, who was in the laundry business here several years ago, will be manager, and the concern expects to do a good business from the start.

THE OFFICERS WERE FOOLED.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 3.—Quite a sensation was caused here by the officers supposing a dead body was in a trunk. When the trunk was opened it was found to contain a package of odoriferous hamburger cheese.

Attorney J. M. Worth left at noon for Hopkinsville on business.

THE MARKETS.

FORWARDED BY ARRENS & GILBERT OF THE PADUCAH COMMISSION CO.

WHAT	OPEN	CLOSE
WHEAT—
December	77	74
July	75	73
May	75	73
CORN—
December	44	42
July	42	41
May	42	41
OATS—
December	31	31
July	31	31
May	31	31
POKE—
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July	18 00	17 50
August	18 00	17 50
September	18 00	17 50
October	18 00	17 50
November	18 00	17 50
December	18 00	17 50
January	18 00	17 50
February	18 00	17 50
March	18 00	17 50
April	18 00	17 50
May	18 00	17 50
June	18 00	17 50
July

CITIZENS SAVINGS BANK

W. F. PAXTON, President. R. RUDY, Cashier.

DIRECTORS.

Jas. A. Rudy E. P. Gilson
Geo. Hart E. Farley
F. Kamleiter G. C. Wallace
F. M. Fisher W. F. Paxton
R. Rudy.

Does a general banking business. Every accommodation given consistent with safe banking.

Accounts of individuals and firms solicited.

Interest paid on time deposits.

Open Saturday Nights From 7 to 8

THIRD and BROADWAY

SATISFACTION

His looks show it, and all because he bought his Christmas Candies, Oranges, Bananas and Nuts

—of—

Kamleiter
PHONE 124

The South 3rd St. Grocer.

A. L. LASSITER,

Architect and Superintendent.

Rooms 7 and 8, Yeiser Building

Phones Office 25.
Residence 549-4.
PADUCAH, KY.

ALBEN W. BARKLEY,

Attorney-at-Law,

Room No. 5, Columbia Building.

Telephone 981, Ring 8.

DR. J. E. WOELFE,

Office Hours 9 to 11 a. m.
2 to 4 p. m.
7 to 8 p. m.

Office, 10th and Clay, Res. 1124 Trimble
Phone 718. Phone 751.

Two. E. Moss

J. B. Moss

MOSS & MOSS
LAWYERS

202 South Fourth St. Paducah, Ky.

BRINTON B. DAVIS, F. A. I. A.

ARCHITECT

516 BROADWAY PHONE 20

High grade cigars in fancy packages for Christmas presents.

SOULE'S

DELINQUENT TAX NOTICES.

Hundreds of delinquent tax notices are being sent out from County Clerk Graham's office to people in the county, and his clerical force is kept busy issuing them. The delinquents are notified that they must pay or have additional penalties attached.

A GENUINE PLAGUE

Many Dying From It In Mexico According to Reports

Terror Stricken Natives Are Fleeing by the Hundred From the Infested City.

VICTIMS ARE MOSTLY WOMEN

Mazatlan, Mexico, Jan. 2.—There is no longer the slightest doubt that the disease now afflicting this city is genuine Asiatic plague, for microscopic investigation proves that bacilli pest bacilli are in the blood of those afflicted with the disease. The plague has grown virulent within the last forty-eight hours and the alarm, which had begun in some measure to abate, has returned with increased strength.

The people are fleeing from the city at the rate of 800 a day and some 5,000 have already gone.

It is a remarkable fact that more than 50 per cent. of the persons attacked are women.

The news of the recurrence of the plague at this port has reached the interior towns of the state, and is causing a panic. Sanitary cordons of armed men have been placed around the towns to prevent the entrance of any one from this place.

Mazatlan is a modern Mexican town of about 15,000 inhabitants on the Gulf of California, 183 miles from Sinaloa. Its business houses are enterprising and well stocked with goods. It is one of the prominent seaports of the west coast, and the seat of considerable commerce.

The products of the mining district of St. Sebastian have an outlet through Mazatlan.

PRETTY WEDDING.

KENTUCKIANS MARRIED LAST NIGHT IN METROPOLIS.

Mr. Marcel F. Billington, of Lovelaceville, and Miss Maad Ogilvie, of Lament, Ky., went to Metropolis last evening and were married at the Julian hotel by Justice Liggett at 7 p. m. It was one of the prettiest weddings of the season, and was witnessed by quite a crowd. The young people are very popular in the county and have relatives in Paducah.

OFFICE CALENDARS.

A very serviceable calendar has been issued by the Chicago and Northwestern railway for the year 1903. The figures are large and easily distinguished, the days of the month and the consecutive day of the year are both shown; and the publication is of that solid and creditable sort which makes it desirable for business men and manufacturers. Send four cents in postage to W. R. Kniskern, Passenger Traffic Manager, 22 Fifth avenue, Chicago.

MARRIED IN TENNESSEE.

Mr. Olaale Johnson, a well known young printer of the city, and Miss Alta Heflin, daughter of Mrs. Ophelia Heflin of Harrison street, went to Union City, Tenn., Thursday and were married. They have now returned to the city and have received the congratulations of many friends.

WENT TO SHILOH.

Mr. James H. Barkley of Springfield, Ill., formerly attorney general of that state, has gone to Shiloh Park to superintend the location of some of the Illinois monuments on that battlefield. Mr. Barkley has been here on a visit to his nephew, Mr. Alben Barkley.

FAVORITE FAMILY REMEDY.

Frequently accidents occur in the household which cause burns, cuts, sprains and bruises; for use in such cases Ballard's Snow Liniment has for many years been the constant favorite family remedy. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

MARRIED IN INDIANA.

Mr. Harry Dill, formerly of Brookport, and Miss Mand McKee of Terre Haute, Ind., were married a few days ago at the bride's home. The groom is now proprietor of the Gazette at Harrison, Okla.

VICTIM OF ACCIDENT.

Master Ellis Willett, son of Mr. Ed Willett of the Maxon's Mills neighborhood, while playing with some of his playmates a few days ago, fell and broke his leg. He is doing well.

FIRST MESSAGE

The New Pacific Cable Now Working Well.

Congratulations Sent to President Roosevelt By Gov. Dole.

San Francisco, Jan. 3.—At 11:01 o'clock Thursday night the instrument at the San Francisco end of the Pacific cable clicked, showing that connection with Honolulu had been made, and that a message was coming.

The first words that the ticker printed on the tape were "You are reversed," meaning the Honolulu operator was getting the San Francisco signals backward.

The batteries were readjusted and then came the first formal communication from Honolulu over the new cable. The ticker sounded a message of congratulation and good will from Governor Dole to President Roosevelt. Then came a cablegram from the cable officials at Honolulu to Clarence Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable company.

Company messages followed rapidly, greetings being exchanged and messages passed to and fro.

MARRY WEDNESDAY.

YOUNG MAN TO WED A BELLE OF UNION COUNTY.

Mr. T. A. Greenwill, a popular young farmer of the Maxon's Mills neighborhood, and Miss Geraldine Austin of Union county, will be married next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Sacred Heart Catholic church in that county. Immediately after the ceremony the couple will return to the county and that evening will be entertained by their neighbors.

Essay on Man of Leisure.

Nothing is too good for a loafer if he can get it without working. A loafer has no fairness, no decency, no respect for industry, or honesty. A loafer would ride a free horse to death every hour if he had the chance. An industrious, worthy man has some modesty, some respect for those who accomplish results, but a loafer hasn't. Give him a chance to climb into a band wagon, and he will throw the players out, and announce himself as the best musician the world has ever known.—Atchison Globe.

BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP

Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois and Co.'s.

IS 90 YEARS OLD.

Mr. Ed Bradshaw, an uncle of Mrs. R. Rowland, yesterday celebrated his 90th birthday at Col. Rowland's on North Seventh street. Mr. Bradshaw still enjoys life quite as well as younger men, and yesterday many friends called to congratulate him and extend best wishes.

COMPANY IS INCORPORATED.

The Kevil Improvement Co., of which Messrs. J. F. Wallace, Chicago, Z. C. Graham of Paducah and R. N. Kevil of Princeton are principal stockholders, was yesterday incorporated at Frankfort. As stated several days ago, the capital stock is $16,000.

NO POLICE COURT.

There was no police court this morning for the first time in quite awhile, there being no cases for trial. Matters have been quite dull about Judge Sanders' headquarters for several days.

FOR COAL STEALING.

Florence Greer, colored, was arrested this morning by Special Officer Ogden of the Illinois Central for stealing coal from the latter road. There are others being sought by the officers for being implicated in the same affair.

FORM A NEW COMPANY.

Mr. Joe Potter, the grocer at Third and Jefferson streets, and Mr. J. R. Province, the implement dealer, have formed a partnership and the name of the firm is now J. E. Potter and Co. They will handle both groceries and implements.

Theatrical Notes.

Coming attractions at The Kentucky:

Tuesday night—Sam T. Jack's Bar-leaguers.

Wednesday night—"Sporting Life," the big English race horse play.

Thursday and Friday nights—"Black Vipers, or The Detective's Daughter."

Saturday matinee and night—Miss Kate Watson in "The Hoosier Girl."

Mr. W. A. Grigg and Miss Frances Fields, who were here all summer in the English Stock company, will be here with "The Black Vipers."

Miss Lillian Rose, who plays Olive de Carteret in "Sporting Life," is spoken of by the Eastern press as one of the rising young actresses of America.

One of the pretty ballads interpolated in "The Strollers," which plays here in February, is sung by Dorothy Haunting, a contralto of pleasing presence and beautiful voice. The song is entitled, "Would You be True to Eyes of Mine if You Look into Eyes of Brown?" and is one of the prettiest songs of the year.

Sam T. Jack's Famous Bar-leaguers, a show for the boys, will be here Tuesday night, being the first bar-league show The Kentucky has ever played, and the management requests the ladies not to attend the performance, as bar-league shows as a rule do not please lady audiences, although there is nothing said or done to offend.

"The Hoosier Girl," a capital comedy that is to be presented at The Kentucky next Saturday matinee and night, is a bright picture of rural life in the villages and country sections of Southern Indiana. The characters are not exaggerated, as is the case in most farce-comedies, but are true representations of people found in the above sections of the "Hoosier state," the home of the late and far-famed Senator Voorhees.

Uno of the best and liveliest comedies of the season will be presented at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and night. It is Dave B. Lewis' company of fan-makers, supporting the famous little versatile favorite, Miss Kate Watson. In the latest laugh-producer, entitled "The Hoosier Girl." There are so many pleasing features in this gigantic production of side-splitting complications that it would really be tedious to mention them.

W. A. Grigg, former member of the English Stock company, appears as George Bolton Bouby, a broken-down opera singer, in the new melodrama, "Black Vipers," which comes to The Kentucky next Thursday and Friday nights, January 8 and 9. Mr. Grigg has had a most extended experience in dramatic work, having appeared in grand opera and created a number of very important roles in leading comic opera productions. The part of Bouby is one of very effective low comedy and admits of the employment of Mr. Grigg's magnificent voice in musical selections of both serious and humorous description.

Miss Frances Fields, former member of the English Stock company, will appear as Mother Faang in the melodrama "The Black Vipers," which comes to The Kentucky next Thursday and Friday, January 8 and 9. This character is strongly accentuated and belongs to that class of personations made familiar to the public by the well known character of Mother Frohard in "The Two Orphans." Miss Fields, through her extended experience in the portrayal of character parts, has succeeded in making a most vivid picture of this weird character, and has won the unstinted praise of both the press and the public. Seats go on sale for both performances Wednesday morning.

The "Belle of New York" opera company that will be here January 26 is identically the same company and cast that was here and made such a big hit last season, and indications are that when January 26 rolls around one of the biggest and most fashionable audiences ever assembled in The Kentucky will greet the favorite opera company. They are now on their return from a long Western tour up through British Columbia, and as they started early in August in the extreme Northwest and have been West ever since no one in Paducah has had the pleasure of seeing them the season. These are facts that are proven by the dramatic papers. They have made a tremendous hit again this season everywhere they have played.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE KENTUCKY COMPANY, 17 BROADWAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

FOR GOOD HEALTH

To preserve or restore it there is no better prescription for men, women and children than Ripans Tablets. They are easy to take. They are made of a combination of medicines approved and used by every physician. Ripans Tablets are used by all sorts of people—but to the plain every-day folks they are a veritable friend in need. Ripans Tablets have become their standard family remedy. They are a dependable, honest remedy, with a long and successful record, to cure indigestion, dyspepsia, habitual and stubborn constipation, offensive breath, heartburn, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sleeplessness, muscular rheumatism, sour stomach, bowel and liver complaints. They strengthen weak stomachs, build up run-down systems, restore pure blood, good appetite and sound, natural sleep. Everybody derives constant benefit from a regular use of Ripans Tablets. Your druggist sells them. The five-cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The Family Bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

RIPANS

Burlington Route The Man In Charge

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month the Burlington sells homeseekers' tickets to the territory East of the Rockies at one fare plus $2.00 round trip. On the same dates one-way settlers' tickets to the same region are sold at a trifle more than half rates.

The Burlington best reaches the corn belt, the wheat belt, the livestock areas of the Louisiana Purchase, and, in connection with the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railroads, forms direct routes to the upper Northwest country through St. Louis or Chicago.

The generous harvest of 1902 in the West is a strong appeal to homeseekers and investors to see the rewards now being gained by farmers, stock raisers and fruit growers, not only in the regions of natural rainfall, but in the spreading irrigated districts of Eastern Colorado, Northwest Nebraska, the North Platte and Big Horn Valleys of Wyoming, also of Idaho, Montana and Washington.

Send for any of our special land publications, all free—"Nebraska," "Black Hills Mining," "North Platte Valley," "Big Horn Basin," "West Nebraska Grazing Country," "The Corn Belt," also of Minnesota, the Dakotas, or the Northwest.

CHAS. E. MICHEL, Traveling Passenger Agent. I. W. WAKELEY, General Passenger Agent. ST. LOUIS, MO.

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING AND REPAIRING.

FIRST CLASS HORSE-SHOING. Best quality of rubber tires. Mugs. Repairing wagons. Will sell spring wagons on installment payments.

No. 319 Court St. J. V. GREIF, Manager.

THE SUN'S PUZZLE PICTURE.

Tommy had hopped the fence to get a few apples. What made him change his mind?

The Week In Society.

RING IN THE NEW.

We sat and watched the old year die,
Before the fireplace broad and high,
With embers all aglow Outside the night winds blew their will.
On plaintive flute and whistle shrill
For dancing flakes of snow.
We talked about the fleeting whim,
Of what we thought of her and him,
Of what they said and did;
The latest book, the newest play,
The speeding of the season gay.
The price for pleasure bid.
We talked at length of pain and hope,
How with the future beat to cope
At last to win success;
And when we had our thoughts compared,
We found each with the other shared
In something to confess.

So when the bells rang out the old,
Rang in the new, and all was told,
A new life page was turned—
The embers then had lost their glow,
The lamp flame flickered dim and low,
That love's light brightly burned!
—Wood Levette Wilson in Minnie's

1902. 1903.

While the week has been filled with entertainments, it is a somewhat difficult one to chronicle. Many of the events have been those elusive informal affairs that are most enjoyable but hard to lay hand on; now they are here and now they are not. The New Year will have no reason to complain of any lack of warmth in his reception by Paducah society, for many of the parties were in honor of his coming, and 1902 was shown all proper respect too. Watch parties have been the order of the week, and form the larger part of the social calendar. There have been some more elaborate functions, but in general the spirit of informality has characterized the week.

THE NEW YEAR GERMAN.

An exceedingly beautiful and elaborate function was the New Year german of the Cotillion club at the Palmer house on Wednesday evening. The dancing did not begin until 11:30 as the club attended the Otis Skinner performance first, and lasted through the early hours of 1903. It was a "ribbon german" and the figures and favors were especially pretty and effective, and were cleverly designed by Mrs. Victor Voris. The first figure was "Souvenir Favors" and the program cards were the favors. Figure II was "Beaux and Belles" and large Marlborough ribbon bows were given to the men and bracelets of bells to the girls. "Derby Day" was represented by Jockey caps for the girls and whips for the boys. Dolls and rattles made figure IV, truly "Les Ro-fantes Terribles." Figure V was "Winter Sport," a young lady driving two young men tandem with long ribbon reins and favoring one finally. "Cau-did Looks and Cuddled Crooks" was the seventh figure, and mirrors and candy canes were the favors. "The Cowboy and the Lady" was designated by pistols and bows. The last figure was an effective tent scene. The attendance was unusually large, and a number of out-of-town guests were present. Some very striking and charming costumes were worn and a most beautiful to the brilliant scene.

Those in attendance were:

Dr. and Mrs. Victor Voris, Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Heese of Lon-isville, David Sanders, W. B. McPherson, Cook Husbands, Harry Tandy of Frankfort, George C. Wallace, Ben Wells, Charles Kiger, and Harris Rankin, Mesdames Samuel Newman of Milwaukee, Alouzo Meyers, Birdie
Campbell, T. C. Leech, Ed Wilson,
W. J. Hills, and Armonr Gardner; Messrs. Frances Harris of Dyersburg, Margaret Park, Teddie Keys, Lucy Thomas, Ruth Smith, and Agnes Carney of Mayfield, Anna Parks of Nashville,
Agnes Morris of Hopkinsville, Dr. W.
H. Hook, Ethel Hughes and Carrie Tomlinson of Jackson, Tenn., Myrtle Decker, Ruth Well, Laura Sanders, Martha
Davis, Hattie Hisey, Ethel Morrow, Evelyn Walker, Elizabeth Sinnott, Minnie Terrell, Hattie Terrell, Carrie Riecke, Mabel Riecke, Emma Reed, Gerald Sanders, Ethel Brooks, Blanche Hills, Lillie May Winstead, Faith
Langstaff, Martha Leech, Mattie Fowler, Ida Leake, Henrietta Koger, Myra DuBois, Elsie Bagby, Sosie Thompson, Messrs. Louis Riecke, Jr., Gus Thompson, James Smith, Urey Woodson, George Langstaff, Tom Harrison, John Sherwin, Herbert Hawkins,
Henry Rudy, Stewart Sluott, Ben
Frank, Cecil Lacy, Edwin Wilson, Edison Hart, Hugh Williamson of Carro, Leon Deussen, Everett Deussen of Marion Ill., Will Webb, Y. P. Mc-Elrath, Leo Keller, Arthur Everett,
Frank Judge, Rob Doris, Abe Well,
Evert Thompson, Frank Boone, Roscoe
Reed, Erv Albritton, and Emmett Carney of Mayfield; Dave Koger, Robert Wallace, Charles James of Evansville, Ed Toof, Charles Spillman, Allen Ashcraft, George DuBois, Tom Sanders, Douglas Bagby, Charles Cox, Charles Reed, Will Minnich, tilena Parks of Nashville and Dr. I. B. Howell.

CHRISTMAS SANS SOUCI.

Miss Myrtle Greer entertained the Sans Souci club very charmingly on Monday afternoon at her home on North Fifth street. It was the Christmas meeting, postponed from Friday of last week on account of the illness of a niece of Miss Greer, and the appointments were in keeping with the season. A small Christmas tree hung with little crimson stockings was a pretty feature of the decorations. The stockings were distributed to the guests and were used as "tally cards," tiny red bonbons being put in them for every game won.
The club prize, dainty silver salt cellar and spoon, was won by Miss Laura Sanders, and the visitor's prize, a pretty picture, was captured by Miss Annie May Yelzer. An attractive lunch, emphasizing the Christmas idea, was served after the game.

Miss Greer's guests were: Mesdames Will Gilbert, David Sanders, Harris Rankin, Misses Annie May Yelzer, Florence Yelzer, Clara Thompson, Hattie Hisey, Mabel Riecke, Neil Paxton, Sadie Paxton, Minnie Terrell, Hattie Terrell, Myrtle Decker, Hen-

the hotel where I am stopping.
to hear the particulars of a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to come with me.
K. Sowell, May Davis, Luella, Martha Leech.

MRS. EMERY'S CARD PARTY.

Mrs. L. W. Emery entertained at cards on Friday afternoon complimentary to her sister Miss Polly Ferriman. It was an especially pleasant party and was enjoyed by a number of guests.
The first prize was won by Mrs. Thomas O. Leech, the lone hand prize by Mrs. A. J. Decker, and the consolation prize by Miss Anna Webb. A delighful course-luncheon with plum pudding was served after the game. The guests included: Mesdames M. Bloom, E. B. Schwartzberger, J. G. Brooks,
Charles Wheeler, Cook Husbands, R. G.
Terrell, I. D. Wilcox, Ellen Morrow, Sallie Morrow, Joseph Thompson, L. S. Du-Bois, T. C. Leech, A. J. Decker, Charles Trueheart of Louisville, Frank Bryd, D. G. Murrell, Ethel Meyers, A. R. Meyers, Annie Coleman, Garrett, D. L. Van Cullen, David Sanders, O. L. Gregory,
W. A. Gardner, Charles Emery, Loren-ro Emery, Frank Ferriman, Annie Morrow, Leslie Sonle, Lawrence
Gleaves, R. B. Phillips, James Rudy, Misses Nina Rahn, Hattie Sherwin, Claribel Riecke, Ada Thompson, Emily Morrow, Ethel Morrow, Faith Lang-staff, Anna Webb, Anna Parks of Nashville, Tenn., Lucie Robison, Myra DuBois, Nellie Kirkland, Minnie Terrell, Hattie Terrell.

MAGAZINE CLUB.

Miss Minnie Ratcliffe was the hostess of the Magazine club on Friday afternoon, entertaining most pleasantly at the home of her sister Mrs. E. K.
Wilson on Broadway. There were several visitors beside the regular club members. Interesting reports were made from several leading magazines.
Mrs. George U. Wallace represented
The Century very delightfully, and Mrs. James A. Rudy gave an interesting article on China from Harper's Magazine. Mrs. Henry Overby read an entertaining piece on the "Points of Interest in Boston." From the Outlook, Mrs. Mildred Davis gave the "Biography of Alice Caldwell Hegan" and some interesting personal reminiscences of Mr. Ole Young Rice, to whom the gifted writer was recently married and whom Mrs. Davis had met at Monticello; and Miss Alice Compton from the same magazine discussed "Chinese Hospitality." An elaborate course-luncheon was served after the reports. The loes were from Louisville and were in the form of fruits and flowers.

WEST END CARD PARTY.

Miss Nina Rahn entertained at cards on Tuesday afternoon at her home in the West End. It was quite a pretty affair, and several original ideas were emphasized. There were four tables and the prizes were four books, one for each table. Christmas cards were used for the tallies. The prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Trueheart of Louisville; Miss Polle Ferriman, Miss Carrie Riecke, and Miss Jessie Nash. A very delightful luncheon was served after the game.

The guests were: Mesdames Charles Trueheart of Louisville, David Sanders, Misses Fannie Taylor of Kansas City, Emma Reed, Claribel Riecke,
Carrie Riecke, Mable Noble, Emily Morrow, Ada Thompson, Hattie Sherwin, Polly Ferriman, Caroline Robison, Lucie Robison, Birdie Nash, Jessie Nash, Minnie Ratcliffe.

THE MINISTERIAL BANQUET.

The banquet of the Ministerial Association of the city on New Year's evening from 5 to 7 o'clock at the First Christian church, was a most delightful occasion. The only guests present were the ministers and their wives and the Y. M. C. A. secretaries.
The long table was set in the big dining hall and was effectively decorated in Christmas greens with the color-scheme of red and green carried throughout. There were covers for 23, and the four-course menu was elaborate and dainty. Rev. W. H. Pinkerton of the First Christian church presided as toastmaster and the occasion sparkled with wit and epigram. Clever responses were made by a number of the leading ministers on subjects pertinent to the speaker and the gathering.

Y. M. C. A. NEW

YEAR RECEPTION

The Y. M. C. A. kept open house on New Year's day from 2 to 6 p. m. and from 8 to 11 p. m. and the occasion was enjoyed by a large number of guests. The women's committee had charge of the afternoon reception, which was a very charming affair. An informal musical program was rendered, by a number of the city's finest musicians, both vocal and instrumental.
Delightful refreshments were served.

The feature of the evening was a novel trial for a breach of promise

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"
"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to come with me."

Dancing

When the music is inspiring and full of rhythmic swing and animation. Why not have such music at your next party? It is at your call and can be furnished by the Kentucky Orchestra, now under a leader who thoroughly understands his art and is an authority on dance time and tempo.
Call up phone 36-red for further particulars.

sult in which a number of prominent Paducahans took part. It was very bright and funny and was enjoyed by some hundred or more guests.

APPROACHING WEDDING.

Announcement has been made this week of the marriage of Miss Susan Jones, the handsome and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Jones, to Mr. James Porter Sleeth, the prominent young druggist. The ceremony will be performed at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon of January 14 at the First Presbyterian church, by the Rev. W. E. Cave, D. D. The ushers are Messrs. Louis Riecke, Jr., Richard Scott, Oscar Hark, Joseph Sinnott, John Oehlschlaeger and Edward Pettit. The couple will leave on the 7:05 train for New Orleans and Tampa, Fla., from where they will sail for Cuba. As a courteship of several years has preceded the wedding, the announcement comes as no surprise to their many friends, but the congratulations are very numerous.

DANCE AT K. P. HALL.

A pleasant dance was given in the Knights of Pythias hall on Tuesday evening. The chaperones were: Mesdames George Beyer, J. M. St. John, John Kilgore, Charles Holliday and Minnie McElhany. Those in attendance were: Misses Stella Kilgore of Bardwell, Marjorie Kilgore of Bardwell, Kate Holliday, Inez Kruger, Edith Low, Maybelle Beyer, Clara St.
John, Carrie Wise, Nora Kelley, Mary Headlee, Ennie McElhany, Lena Shelton, Floyd Swift, Messrs. Ben Wilson, Philip Rogers, George Holliday, James
Lally, Charlie Carney, Mike Kelley,
Edgar Warren, Howard Shelton, Ivo
Pettit, Murray Cabell, Herman Willett, Carol Given.

NEW YEAR MEETING OF SANS SOUCI.

The Sans Souci club was delightfully entertained on New Year's day by Miss Clara Thompson at her home on Sant Sixth street. It was suggestive of the day in every detail and was a pretty occasion. The tally cards were attractive representations of Father Time and the New Year. There were seven tables of cards and the club prize was won by Miss Lulu Reed, the visitor's prize by Miss Myrtle Decker, and the lone hand prize by Mrs. S.
H. Winstead. An attractive lunch was served late. There were a few guests outside of the regular club members who were all present except four who are out of the city.

IN HONOR OF MR. AND MRS. DAVID FLOURNOY

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Flournoy gave an informal reception at their home at Seventh and Broadway on Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs.
David Flournoy and their wedding party. It was a very charming occasion and a number of guests called during the evening. Delightful refreshments were served and the bride's cake was cut for the ring, thimble, and usual souvenirs. Many bright toasts and congratulations were offered.

The bride who already has a host of friends here, looked very charming in an attractive gown of white canvas cloth with a picture hat of white lace.

A PLEASANT PARTY.

Miss Mabel Callis entertained a number of her schoolmates with an enjoyable party at her home in Little's Addition on Tuesday evening.
The hours from 8 to 11 were very pleasantly spent with games. Delightful refreshments were served.
Among those present were: Misses J. ice Coleman, Alice Hovious, Vera Johnson, Ethel Hawkins, Jessie Wallace, Es-sac Coleman, Sylvia Calish, Masters
David Yelzer, Harold Clark, Clifford Reddick, Willie Reddick, Hull Malone, Will Whitman, George Beyer, Ben
Johnson, Will Kelley, Eddie Keir, Owen
Keller, Charlie Martin, Harry Maogie,
Mr. Joe Rollston.

LUNCHEON AND CARD PARTY.

Miss Virginia Noble entertained a few of her married friends most pleasantly on Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock with an informal luncheon and card party at her pretty home on West Jefferson boot-ward. The prize a plant, was won by Mrs. W. H. Bradley. Pink carnations were given as souvenirs. The guests

Advice to the Aged.
Age brings infirmities, such as sing-gle bowels, weak kidneys and bladder and TORPID LIVER.

Illinois Central R.R.

Chicago and New Orleans Limited

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Well entertained at the Whist club very delightfully on Thursday evening at the handsome Well home on Broadway. The ladies' prize was won by Mrs. Moses Schwab, and the gentlemen's prize by Major M.
Bloom. An attractive luncheon was served later. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wallerstein, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wallerstein, Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Friedman, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. M. Bloom, Mrs.
E. B. Schwartzberger, Mrs. Jeannette Well, Mr. James Greenbaum.

SWELL BOX PARTY.

Mr. Will Webb entertained with a box party at The Kentucky on Wednesday evening to see Otis Skinner in "Lazarro." The party was in honor of several visitors in the city and those occupying the box were: Miss Anna Parks of Nashville, Tenn., and Mr.
Webb, Miss Elizabeth Sinnott and Mr.
Everitt Deussen of Marion, Ill., Miss Ethel Morrow and Mr. Leon Deussen of Marion, Ill., Miss Henrietta Koger and Mr. Glenn Parks of Nashville, Tenn.

"THE SUN MARCH."

Prof. William Deal, the leader of The Kentucky orchestra, has composed a march entitled "The Sun" which is dedicated to Mr. Edwin J. Paxton of the paper. It was played today at the matinee and at tonight's performance of the Gertrude Cogliahn troupe, and will be heard with interest. Prof.
Deal is a fine and true musician and his compositions are certain to bear the earmark of his genius.

INFORMAL PARTY.

There was an informal party on Monday evening at the pleasant home of Miss Susie Thompson on West Broadway, where a number of the younger society set gathered. A most enjoyable evening was spent by the forty or more guests who went to welcome Miss Thompson home for the holidays, from St. Louis where she is attending school.

MISS HELEN DECKER'S DANCE.

Miss Helen Decker entertained the guests was most out-of-town visitors.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY.

Mrs. John J. Doran entertained pupils of her private school most en-joyably on New Year's eve at her home on South Fourth street. The evening was most pleasantly and va-riedly spent and the Old Year was watched out. Dainty refreshments were served. A number of guests were present.

NEW YEAR PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Slaughter gave a pleasant New Year party from 8 to 12 on Thursday evening in honor of their cousin Miss Lotilla Fowler, as their home on North Third street. A dainty four-course luncheon was served at 11 o'clock in the dining room which was attractively decorated in red and white.

CALDWELL FAMILY REUNION.

Colonel and Mrs. R. G. Caldwell entertained at their West Jefferson street home on Tuesday afternoon. It was a reunion of the Caldwell family in honor of their first grandchild, the six months' old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Mike Caldwell of Mayfield, and was a most pleasant event.

DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

The young men of the First Christian church were entertained by the Rev. W. H. Pinkerton with a delightful 8 o'clock dinner in the parlors of the church on Tuesday evening. Each young man was privileged to bring a young lady, and it was a most pleasant social occasion.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Miss Jessie Ellis entertained a number of her friends at her home on South Sixth street on Monday evening. It was a pleasant occasion and the evening was most enjoyably spent.
Miss Ellis will return on Monday to college at Dickson, Tenn.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given Mr. Will

(Continued on Sixth Page)

Humbugged

Don't be fooled by advertisements of women's shoes which are "super-elegant," "sculptured,"
"dainty," "architectural," and "statuesque."

Use a good, honest Saxon word and ask if the FIT!

There's the point! There's the rub
There is one shoe for women that has bu-itself up to the top-notch of popularity o
FIT.

That shoe is the "Queen Quality."

If you want to see your foot look a full smaller; — if you want to spare yourself of your daily fatigue; — if you want to shoes which will be a constant delight and longer because they fit accurately, buy a pair of "Queen Quality."

A million women say this! Common unnecessary.

BOOTS $3.00 OXFORDS

Rudy, Phillips &

HAVE SOLE RIGHT OF SALE

EAST TENNESSEE TELEPHONE

Long distance lines and telephone this Company enable you to talk al-anywhere in Southern Indiana, South Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. We can put you in and satisfactory communication with people of this great section of the co-We solicit your patronage. Rates reasonable. Equipments and facilities first class.
JAMES E. CALDWELL,
President & Gen'l Manager.

CITIZENS SAVINGS BANKING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
FRANK M. FARRER, President and Editor.
J. F. PAXTON, General Manager.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Entered at the postoffice at Paducah, Ky., as second class matter.

THE DAILY SUN
By carrier, per week..... $1.10
By mail, per month, in advance..... .40
By mail, per year, in advance..... 4.50

THE WEEKLY SUN
One year, by mail, postage paid..... $1.00
Address THE SUN, Paducah, Ky.

Office, 115 South Third | Telephone, No. 266
Chicago Office, R. A. Osborne, in charge, 1002 Tribune Building.

THE SUN CAN BE FOUND AT THE FOLLOWING PLACES:
R. D. Clements & Co.
Van Cullen Bros.
Palmer House.

SATURDAY, JAN. 3, 1903.

DAILY THOUGHT.

"Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you temperance and self-control, diligence and strength of will, cheerfulness and content and a hundred virtues which the idle never know."

THE WEATHER.
Fair tonight and Sunday.

ALWAYS FOR THE CITY.

The Republican council's record is its own vindication. It was the only progressive council Paducah ever had, and not a single one of its acts can be construed as against the interests of the city and her people. This has been said before and is likely to be said again, but the events of the past year and in fact ever since the Republican council retired, have conclusively proven the thinking people of Paducah of the inefficiency of Democratic administration. The people seen their money wasted with a heavy hand, with nothing to show for it. They have heard the howl of the city fathers, even from the throat of the city fathers, against taxes and poor service. They have seen how the Democrats in office attempted to throw back ten years by forcing the city to the third class, and they know a great many other things which will take good care at the election, they will not have to be told.

Democratic organs have sought, by presenting the Republican council as a monster, to bolster up their own cause. In other day, one paper claimed the Republican council gave away three for the river front railway. The Republican council did nothing of the kind. Everyone familiar with the city knows that a franchise cannot be given, but must be sold to the bidder. When the question of the council the city attorney, a Democrat and at the circuit judge, decided that the city of the railroad was merely a right of way. The two sides the right of way, but the city was either sold or given to the railroad company has no right of way. The city must be sold, and when the city companies, street car company, etc., want a franchise, they get it according to law. The city has never advocated "leasing" the city light plant to a corporation or anything else unless it is the only practical way the city can at present obtain good lights. The officials in office know what is the matter and how much money it will require to make the plant serviceable. If they can get the money, have the work done and furnish good lights, the people will be satisfied. If the city can't do it, the people don't care whether the plant is leased or not, so existing dissatisfaction is dispelled.

Some bright ideas are evolved by the able city officials. Last night the brick street was washed off, and this morning the better part of the dirt and sand was found on the pavements in front of the stores for the people to walk on. The merchants had to get out their porters and have it swept off.

A GENUINE PLAGUE

at he wanted to apologize and property was touched by the extension, and was at the time worth four hundred dollars. A few days ago he sold it for $4500. Besides the belt line has saved much in the way of street repairs.

If anyone doubts the benefits to the city and the people from the right of way granted to secure the river front extension, let him interview the merchants, especially the wholesalers. Anything that helps the merchants and enables them, by reducing their expenses, to sell their goods cheaper, benefits the people.

As to the Sun's being a "corporation paper," it has never taken a position on any public question that was not based on common sense, and that could not be sustained when fairly stated to intelligent people. Its position on the dual telephone system was based on the belief that it was acting for the interests of the public, and it was sustained by the reports from over ninety per cent of the cities written to it in which the dual system is in operation. The action since taken by professional men and merchants of Paducah on the telephone question further confirms that position, and as there has been no reduction in rates, and it cannot be presumed that there will be any improvements in service, there is as yet no apparent advantage to the public in another company's coming here. Later on the people may judge for themselves, and then if we have been in error we shall freely apologize. The Sun has always defended the Republican council because it made a good, clean record for progress and economy. The Democrats and their organs ought to build and run a few more light plants, make another $1.85 tax levy, and then "farm out" the whole town.

Some of the members of the council who wouldn't know a cog wheel from a monkey wrench so far as machinery is concerned, pretend to know all about what causes the bad electric lights in Paducah, just how much the machinery in the plant is worth and what ought to be done to improve the plant. And they appear to think that all you have to do is to say "Let there be light"—and there will be light. It can be authoritatively said that it will require $8,000 to put the light plant in the proper condition, without installing any relay machinery for use in case of break down. If the city has or can get the $8,000, and deems that way preferable to any other, it should get to work without delay to give the people better lights. This talk of "municipal ownership" is only a subterfuge of a few who haven't intelligence enough to see into a plain proposition, and who don't want to do anything to improve the city. No one has ever said anything about permanently disposing of the light plant. All that is wanted is to secure good lights, and the city need sell nothing, but may temporarily turn over the light problem to some one able to cope with it, until the city is in a better position to look after it itself.

The spirit of the times is showing decided tendency towards fairer treatment for both labor and capital. Governor Odell, of New York, said in his inaugural address that they should thoroughly understand each other, and they would get along better. It seems that the discussions of pulpit, platform and press, the decisions of the courts, and the various instances of arbitration are convincing both capital and labor of the inalienable rights of each, and they will profit by it. It would be much better in the long run if they would agree in the first place, or if they can't agree, to settle their differences by arbitration, and it appears that they are beginning to see it that way.

Misrepresentation constitutes argument with some papers. The Sun has never advocated "leasing" the city light plant to a corporation or anything else unless it is the only practical way the city can at present obtain good lights. The officials in office know what is the matter and how much money it will require to make the plant serviceable. If they can get the money, have the work done and furnish good lights, the people will be satisfied. If the city can't do it, the people don't care whether the plant is leased or not, so existing dissatisfaction is dispelled.

Some bright ideas are evolved by the able city officials. Last night the brick street was washed off, and this morning the better part of the dirt and sand was found on the pavements in front of the stores for the people to walk on. The merchants had to get out their porters and have it swept off.

FIRST MESSAGE

How can man quickly cure himself after years of suffering from sexual weakness, loss of vitality, night losses, varicocele, etc., and enlarge small weak organs to full size and vigor? Simply send your name and address to Dr. Knapp Medical Co., 1015 Hull Building, Detroit, Mich., and they will gladly send free of cost a full directions so that any man may easily cure himself at home. This is certainly a most generous offer and the following extracts taken from their daily mail show what men think of their generosity.

"Dear Sirs—Please accept my sincere thanks for your recent letter. I have given your treatment a thorough trial and the result has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sirs—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sirs—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed, and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

"Correspondence in strictly confidential, mailed in plain, sealed envelope. The receipt is free for asking and they want every man to have it."

off again, and in a few hours the dirt and sand were back on the street. It is suggested that a poll of the people down town be taken in order to determine whether they want the dirt on the street to look at or on the pavement to walk on.

It is claimed that the council will decline to accept the resignations of the two members who want to quit. When the best men begin resigning, it is time for them to get alarmed and try to patch things up by forcing men to hold offices with which they have become disgusted.

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

Book of the Bible is Of the Most Interesting Interest.

The question who wrote the epistle to the Hebrews is one which still remains unanswered. Endless suggestions have been made by Biblical scholars. The book has been ascribed in turn to Appollon, Luke, Aquila and Priscilla in collaboration, and others; but there is no consensus of opinion, no one claims for his own theory that it should be considered anything but a guess. There is a strange fascination about this veiled prophet, so full of the poetry of an earlier faith, who has given to the world his conception of Christianity—to him a religion of conscience and of hope, to which he had "fled for refuge" from a decaying ceremonialism, a religion in which he had found "a strong consolation." Even to the unlearned the book is very literary, and those who know confirm this instinctive judgment. The writer drops the threads of his argument to find illustrations and ornaments, and by no means disdains the verbal effects. Hebrews has nothing of the eternal simplicity which has kept the meaning of the Gospel clear among the swords and pens of ten thousand theologians. No book in the New Testament—unless, perhaps, Revelations—has suffered more from the theory of verbal inspiration. Something of the writer's real mind has been, we suspect, irremediably overlaid with the conclusions of dogmatists; but for all those who desire to know what a cultivated man, who was not St. Paul, thought about Christianity before the end of the first century, it remains of intense interest.—London Spectator.

ALL JOINED IN THE CHORUS.

Yachtmen with Megaphones Jogged Messenger's Memory.

The wife of a New York yacht owner was sending a man ashore from the craft as it lay off Shelter Island the other afternoon. As Davies says, "it was cocktail hour and all was still." Waea the boat rowed by the messenger was a dozen lengths away from the yacht a woman's voice hailed him: "Peter, Peter, don't forget the cheese grater." But Peter neither heard nor ceased to row. The woman rushed to the megaphone and presently the loungers on the piazzas of the Manhasset house, half a mile away, heard: "Peter, Peter, don't forget the cheese grater." A moment's pause, again the woman's voice through the megaphone, more staccato than over now: "Peter, Peter, don't forget the cheese grater." Just about this time a close observer might have noticed signs of action on the decks of all the other yachts. Shadowy forms, more or less pajama clad, stole on tiptoe from below, and then from Manhasset to Prospect there went up a mighty chorus from a hundred megaphones: "Peter, Peter. For heaven's sake, Peter, don't forget the cheese grater!"—New York Sun.

Sad Ending to Romance.

A pretty romance that had its beginning some years back in a western university culminated with a sad finale a short time ago in Manila, P. I. Miss Jeanette Williams of Denver traveled across the Pacific to join her fiancé, Rudolph Zunshten, who was engaged as teacher in Narcisang Saguna. Guided by his friends in Manila, she hastened to his house and found him in a dying condition. A clergyman was summoned at once and the wedding ceremony was performed, the young schoolmaster hardly whispering the replies to the ritual. Within a few hours he was dead, the disease being diagnosed as Asiatic cholera.

For Chapped Hands use Soule's Balm
for the Skin.

THEO'D-TIME BATH

SATURDAY NIGHT IMMERSION A TIME OF HORROR.

Middle-Aged Business Man Contrasts the Luxury of the Present Day With the Life in Small Western Town Twenty-five Years Ago.

"Last night," said the comfortable-looking man with the 48-inch waistband, "I stood by," as the sailors say, while the wife bestowed a scrubbing upon my 7-year-old youngster. Nothing remarkable about that, is there? But it set me to thinking about how much better the kids of to-day have it than they did when I was a led myself.

He looked mighty comfortable, that boy did, and he just lay there in the tub and let his mother swab and molly-coddle him with all the insolence in life. When the dousing was over he stood up and let the tepid water from the shower run over him, and then he stepped out of the tub onto a bath rug, and his mother gave him a brisk drying with a Turkish towel. Then she enfolded him with Florida water, rigged him out in a fresh night shirt, and tucked him into bed.

"I knew, when I was his age, this Saturday night bathing game was always in store for me, and I used to look forward to it with a kind of a feeling of despair. But I'd dodge the job as long as possible, and I'd wait for my good mother to appear at the back gate and summon me home along toward 8 or 9 o'clock of the Saturday night. By that time she'd have the supper dishes all washed up and the pans in the kitchen all shining for Sunday, and the old wash tub, with the wooden handles sticking up above the brim, would be out in the middle of the kitchen floor.

"Get the water, son," she'd say to me, and then the job was on. It was a little western town where there were no water works, but the well was right out in the back yard. That well always seemed about a mile and a half deep to me when I was drawing up the water for the Saturday night scrubbing. Then my brother and I would begin to race to see which could peel his duds off first, and get the first bath. The reason why we both wanted to get the first bath wasn't, of course, on account of any love for the bathing, but because it was so much fun for the one who had got through with the horrible job first to stand around nice and dry and warm, and make faces at the one who was just beginning to undergo the misery.

"Well, when I was the 'first undressed' I'd skate over to the old green-painted wash tub and feel 'n' the water with one of my hands and feel sad with myself. B-r-r-r! but wasn't that well water cold, though. I'd stand there and look into the depths of the tub, shivering, until my mother made her appearance in the kitchen with her paraphernalia.

"Now, get in there, you boy," my good mother 'ud say, and I'd stick one foot in, swearing in my heart all the time that at the first chance I was going to run away to be a sailor or something—and then my mother would exert a sudden pressure on my shoulders and down I'd keelhaul in that icy water. I wouldn't be through gasping and trying to get my breath before she'd begin on my upper superstructure with a piece of red flannel for a washrag and half a bar of common yellow soap that had edges on it as sharp as a knife.

"Mother was pretty muscular in those days, and the way she'd begin to gumme and bore with that red flannel washrag and that soap was sure a caution to locals. And when she wasn't busy with the hand holding the washrag she'd always let the durned cold thing hang, dripping, down my back. Such a swabberino! Talk about your military scrubbing and things like that, I'll bet they're not one, two, three with the washbub swabs that that ever faithful, self-reliant, strong-armed mother of mine put me through when I was at the tender stage of life. I can smell that yellow bar of soap yet—it smelt like 'rozum'—not resin, y'understand, but 'rozum'.

"Maybe I wasn't always glad when she began to rinse me off by dipping a tin wash-basin into the tub and pouring the water on my head. The drying-off process didn't amount to much, but you can wager your gullus that it wasn't done with any Turkish towel. Just in, there'd often be a hygienic of my kind of a regular towel on these occasions, so that I've seen my mother hunt around for an old towel, use or a remnant of some mysterious garment for the drying. I didn't breathe a sigh of deep contentment and relief when, after spouting one of those old-fashioned, fuzzy wuzzy caution flannel 'n' cloth garments for young uns, she'd let me into the old leather bed, with a couple tree just outside the window. I knew that the next bath was a week in the distance."—Wash

Arctic Coal.

The Norwegians are turning their attention to the large and promising coal fields on the southwest coast of Spitzbergen. For several years past their fishermen, while in these coastal waters, have observed the outcrops of coal. Their stories aroused interest at home and the coal fields were examined as a possible source of profit. Several companies have been formed to carry on coal-mining in these new fields and there is much confidence in Norway that the new Arctic enterprise will be profitable.

Cleaning Up ..Sale..

We know of no better way to celebrate the New Year than to clean our house of all odds and ends and remnants. First, however, we wish to extend our grateful acknowledgements to our friends and patrons for the exceptional liberal and generous treatment we have received at their hands.

Remnants of Dress Goods

All remnants of dress goods and silks have been measured and marked at prices that will make exceptional cheap merchandise. They are very good for children's dresses.

Black Dress Goods

A big cleaning up sale of odds and ends. 2 black grenadine patterns, 4 handsome black wool dress patterns, 2 lace-over dresses, we offer at regular prices and will have same made by Miss Morgan free of charge when linings and trimmings are purchased of us.

Cloak and Suit Clearance

A rare opportunity for those who have not purchased their winter wraps and suits.

All $25 suits go at $15 All $15 cloaks go at $10
All $20 suits go at $12 All $12 cloaks go at $8
All $10 suits go at $6 All $10 cloaks go at $6
All $5 cloaks go at $3.50

Blankets and Comforts

As a rule we have our coldest nights in January and February. If you have not laid in a supply of our blankets and comforts you will find it to your advantage to do so now. Our stock of these goods is in splendid condition.

Comforts at 75c, $1 and up to $2.75. Down comforts at $5.95
A large line of plaid and white 11-4 blankets at $1.95
Fancy cotton blankets at 90c and $1.25

L. B. OGILVIE & CO.
Agents Butterick Patterns.

Subscribe for the Delineator
It Is Only $1.00 Per Year

CONDENSED STATEMENT OF THE American-German National Bank OF PADUCAH, KY.,
AT CLOSE OF BUSINESS DECEMBER 31, 1902

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and Discounts..... $ 641,301.04	Capital Stock..... $ 250,000.00
Government Bonds..... 50,000.00	Surplus..... 65,000.00
Other Stocks and Bonds..... 10,250.79	Undivided Profits..... 22,500.00
Banking House Fur. & Fix..... 2,000.00	Deposits..... 681,411.00
Other Real Estate..... 4,433.95	Semi-Annual Duty..... 125.00
Treas. U. S. 5 per cent Fund..... 2,500.00	Circulation..... 50,000.00
Cash and Exchange..... 374,736.07
$1,049,228.49	$1,049,228.49

A dividend of 4 per cent. was declared out of the net earnings of past six months, and credited to the stock holders entitled to the same, payable on demand.
Geo C. THOMPSON, President.
Ed. L. ATKINS, Cashier.

CONDENSED STATEMENT OF THE Citizens' Savings Bank

At the close of business Dec. 31, 1902:

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and Discounts..... $445,421.01	Capital Stock..... $100,000.00
Real Estate..... 7,000.00	Surplus Fund..... 25,000.00
Overdrafts..... 11,351.58	Undivided Profits..... 13,705.19
Furniture and Fixtures..... 1,000.00	Bills Receivable..... 2,500.00
Stocks and Bonds..... 2,970.00	Notes Payable..... 1,000.00
State Auditor..... 725.99	Deposits..... 493,819.74
Cash and Exchange..... 173,844.69
$636,113.27	$636,113.27

Dividend Number 29 of FOUR PER CENT was this day paid and placed to the credit of stockholders.
W. F. PAXTON, President

Statement of
The City National Bank
Paducah, Ky.
December 31, 1902.

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and Discounts..... $ 744,518.07	Capital Stock..... $ 200,000.00
U. S. 2 per cent Bonds..... 200,000.00	Surplus..... 100,000.00
Bonds other than U. S..... 11,000.00	Undivided Profits..... 46,126.10
Banking House..... 5,000.00	Circulation..... 200,000.00
Cash and Exchange..... 118,918.33	Receivables..... 11,500.00
Total..... $1,079,437.30	Dividends Unpaid..... 13,514.00
	Contingent fund, Tax sect..... 23,108.03
	Deposits..... 484,889.17
	Total..... $1,079,437.30

A dividend of 6 per cent. was this day declared, payable on and after January 10.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

LOCAL LINES.

Social Notes and About People.

Phone 70 for coal. Barry & Henneberger.

Whittemore Real Estate Free Price

610 Broadway, phone 70

A new and complete line of black books, typewriter papers and guaranteed ribbons at R. D. Clements and Co.

City Pass & Tel. Assn. CINCINNATI, O.

GATES, Geo.

A number of city lights were out last night as a result of the falling of telephone wires.

Oyster soup, fried Rabbit and German potatoes for lunch tonight at the Stag.

The Wilson society will meet with Mrs. H. W. Jennings, 1110 Monroe street, Monday afternoon at 3 p. m.

Go to Sam Gott's tonight for imported German beer and a fine lunch.

The installation of officers of the Odd Fellows lodge has been postponed from last night until next week.

Imported German beer and the finest lunch in the city tonight at Sam Gott's $12 per 1,000 for ladies copying letters. Material furnished. Stamped envelope for particulars. Room 58, Crystal Novelty Co., Chicago.

Oyster soup, fried Rabbit and German potatoes for lunch tonight at the Stag.

The cable to be laid by the People's Telephone Co. across Tennessee river to connect with the Alexander line at Smithland has arrived and been stored in the warehouse at Eleventh and Broadway until ready to be laid.

Sam Gott will serve imported German beer and the best lunch in the city tonight.

Mr. Peter Puryear has qualified as a notary public.

Conductor D. O. McCann continues to improve at the I. O. hospital.

Capt. Ed Howard has not yet arrived to take charge of the marine ways, but is expected at any time.

The U. S. recruiting station here will be closed Monday, and up until this afternoon there had been eight applicants, but none were accepted.

The law firm of Taylor, Gilbert and Lucas, formed a year or more ago, has by mutual consent been dissolved and the young attorneys will hereafter conduct their business separately, although temporarily they will continue in the same office.

BELIEVED TO BE LUCKY BALDWIN.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—A man registered as Edward Jackson, but believed to be "Lucky" Baldwin, the famous turfman, is here under treatment for cancer.

PLUMBERS ON A STRIKE.

St. Louis, Jan. 3.—Over four hundred plumbers are on a strike here as the result of the refusal of master plumbers to grant their demand of $5 a day.

NEW SWITCH BOARD.

The East Tennessee Telephone company is increasing its telephone switch board at the exchange office from 1400 phones to 2000, and will soon have the new section which is now being installed, in and working.

WATER NOTICE

Patrons of the Water Company should remember that their rents expired Dec. 31st. Those who desire to renew them should do so before it is forgotten, as all premises not paid for on or before the 10th of January will be shut off.

Our drugs and chemicals are equal in strength and purity to any on the market.

DU BOIS KOLB & CO.

JOHN ARD—which I have already re-

A Well Known Contractor Dies After a Long Illness.

Former Paducah Dies in Memphis—Child's Body Taken to Illinois.

Mr. John Arts, for nearly half a century a resident of this county, and for many years a contractor in Paducah, died at 11 o'clock last night at his home south of Broadway, on the old Olaton road, after an illness of about three years. He had for the past few years been in such ill health that he could not work. The deceased was 68 years old, and was born in the old country. He came to this section when quite young, but leaves relatives in Pittsburg.

He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his loss. He was a highly esteemed man, and his demise will be greatly regretted. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until relatives in Pittsburg are heard from.

Relatives here today received news of the sudden death at Memphis of Mrs. Charles Gossam, whose relatives reside at 337 Hays avenue, this city. She and her husband left Paducah about three years ago for Memphis to live, and have since resided there. The remains will reach the city tomorrow and be buried in Oak Grove.

Leola Alta Hays, aged three years, died today at 1010 Jones street from inflammation of the brain. The remains will be taken to Elizabethtown, Ill., today on the packet for interment.

TO RABBI MOSES

A SHAFT TO BE ERECTED TO HIS MEMORY AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

The monument erected by the congregation of the Temple Adas Israel in Louisville to their lamented rabbi, Adolph Moses, will be unveiled January 7. The memorial is a handsome one.

The exercises will be simple. There will be a brief address by Rabbi H. O. Ekelow, formerly of Paducah, a present rabbi. The date of the unveiling is the first anniversary of the death of Dr. Moses.

NEW THROUGH SLEEPING CARS BETWEEN CHICAGO AND SAULT STE. MARIE.

Beginning Monday, December 29, a new line of through sleeping cars will be placed in service between Chicago and "The Soo," via the Chicago and Northwestern Ry., leaving Chicago daily except Sunday, 8 p. m. Fast time and excellent dining car service. For reservations and full particulars apply to your nearest agent or address N. M. Breeze, 435 Vine street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Quite a Difference. "Well, madam, you've got your wish—you've married a rich husband." "No, dear, I've married a rich man, but a poor husband."

NOTED PALMIST CHARGES $50.

Love affairs, marriages, separations, trouble, happiness, lucky events, days, chances, changes, adaptations, etc., are revealed in a marvelous manner by Dr. Mandeville, M. S. Charges reduced to 25 and 50 cents for a short time. Parlors 215 South Third street.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Groves' signature is on each box; 25c.

Our Leak Proof Hot Water Bottles are good and strong Du Bois, Kolb & Co.

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?" "I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

That the obligation is to the problem. Anything you need or do not need, "Tip" will secure or dispose of for you.

The price for advertisements in this column is 50 a line. Cash must accompany the order for all ads. There will be no variance from this rule for anyone.

WANTED—A position as stenographer. Address Box 17.

TO RENT—Rooms, furnished or unfurnished. 319 North Sixth street.

FOUND—A muff, on Broadway. Owner can have the same by paying for this advertisement.

LOST—A pearl pin, at the Palmer Friday night. Finder will be rewarded if returned to The Sun office.

PERSONS desiring copying or stenographic work done should call on the hotel stenographer at Hotel Lagomarcino.

FOR RENT—Six room cottage with bath, next to Christian church, on Jefferson. Apply to Dan McFadden at the postoffice.

THREE—Young men from Paducah and vicinity at once to prepare for positions in the government service. Apply to Inter-State Corres. Inst., Cedar Rapids, Ia.

The Kentucky TO-NIGHT.

Management JAMES E. ENGLISH
GERTRUDE COGHLAN

In a dramatization of Maurice Thompson's Charming Romance, "Alice of Old Vincennes" The original massive scenic production complete in every detail exactly as presented at Garden Theatre, New York for

100 NIGHTS 100

A special train will be used in order to play

MATINEE Saturday SEATS ARE NOW ON SALE

Prices { Matinee - - - 50c, 75c, $1 Night - - - $1.50 to 25c

The Kentucky

Management James E. English.

Wednesday NIGHT ONLY Jan. 7

The Most Successful Play ever Presented

"Sporting Life"

Its Record

Six months at McVicker's Theatre Chicago.

Five months at the Academy of Music New York.

10 Scenes of Wondrous Beauty 10

An Unsurpassed Cast of Actors

Seats on Sale Monday 9 a. m.

Prices - - - - - 25c to $1.00

Next: BLACK VIPERS Jan. 8

The Kentucky

Management James E. English.

Thursday and Friday Jan. 8 and 9

TWO NIGHTS

STANLEY WOOD'S

New Melo-Drama

"The Black Vipers"

OR

"The Detective's Daughter"

Stirring events cleverly pictured Large company of exceeding worth

Including Francis Fields & W.A. Griggs

Late of English Stock Co.

Seats on sale Wednesday 9 a. m. for both nights

Prices { All Orchestra - - - 75c All Balcony - - - 50c Gallery - - - 25c and 35c

NEXT: Saturday matinee and night, Kate Watson in

"THE HOOSIER GIRL."

Misses Margery Crammough and Anna Boswell returned at noon from Dyersburg, where they had been visiting since Christmas Advice to the Aged. Age brings infirmities, such as sluggish bowels, weak kidneys and bladder and TORPID LIVER.

Tutt's Pills

Chicago and New Orleans Limited

MORTGAGE LOANS

FOR SALE.

All classes property in every part of city, of which a few samples here given.

No. 1248 Broadway, 8 room house, very easy payments; price $2,200.

No. 900 Bronson avenue, at corner Tenth street, 4 room house, easy payments; price $1,000.

Nice 4 room house, with modern conveniences, in first class repair, west side Seventh street between Harrison and Olney, easy payments; price $1,650.

Factory site, on railroad, at Madison and Tenth streets; price $6,000.

Two circle front lots together, in Fountain Park, each 87 feet wide Will sell separately. Price on corner one $750 and $600 on inside one.

Two houses, one six and other five rooms, at southwest corner Sixth and Boyd streets. Will sell together or separate. See me if you want good trade.

Good eight room house, 60 foot lot, sewerage in both bathroom and kitchen. South side Jefferson street, between Ninth and Tenth streets. Excellent home on easy payments to best resident part of city. Price, $5,000.

Good three room house on South Eighth street near Hinshaws, for only $375. Excellent as investment for rent, or home for colored man bargain.

No. 1740 Harrison street—in Fountain Park—new four room, nice house, 50 foot lot at $1,000, or this with adjoining vacant 50 foot lot $1200.

Seven room house on North side of Elizabeth street, third towards river from Sixth street, rents at $13 a month for $800.

Two houses on one lot at northwest corner Ninth and Ohio streets, total rents $20.50 per month. Price $2050. Easy payments.

No. 520 North Sixth street, rented by year to prompt paying tenant at $35 per month. Price $4,000.

No. 1036 Monroe street, excellent, 5 room house, 50 foot lot, very desirable home in first class neighborhood. Price $1950.

No. 1341 South Ninth street, rooms, hall, shade and fruit trees Price $900

Bargain for colored man in home at $600, $100 cash and balance in monthly payments. Situated on side Jones street between Eleventh and Twelfth, good 3 room house, on 4 lots.

50 lots in Fountain park at pr Deposits. from $125 to $1000, terms $10 third and $5 monthly payments.

No. 911 South Eleventh street, 3 room house, in good condition, a. Cashier, third cash and balance reasonable terms. Price $1000

Several corner lots on Olney at with adjoining inside lots to go with or ones if desired.

No. 410 North Fifth street, 3 room house, lot front 57 ft. 9 in with plenty grass and shade. Price $2250.

Cairo pike lots and on cross between Twelfth and Thirteenth south of the Griffith dairy at $100 up.

Six houses for rent, different prices, from $7 to $30-a Building

Several houses in Western for sale singly for homes or for investors, to whom low given, and if wanted easy payments.

No. 907 Clark street, an 7 room house, with sewer and all modern conveniences and Broadway

Want home at $2050.

Lot, northeast corner of Seventh, 57 ft. 9 inches front and back to alley, 10 REWARD for a case of obstinate

Several houses, both sewer and no pathology, my monthly total rents $45 per month; safe, harmless; well; healthy investment at $1800 cash and balance wanted.

Large number of Real Estate Agency, at prices from $50 up monthly payments.

200 Mechanics from $50 up. Easy prices.

No. 1236 Monroe house at $850.

W. M. J. 520 B'Way, N.Y.

W. M. J. 520 B'Way, N.Y.

Illinois Central R.R.

Chicago and New Orleans Limited

MORTGAGE LOANS

FOR SALE.

All classes property in every part of city, of which a few samples here given.

No. 1248 Broadway, 8 room house, very easy payments; price $2,200.

No. 900 Bronson avenue, at corner Tenth street, 4 room house, easy payments; price $1,000.

Nice 4 room house, with modern conveniences, in first class repair, west side Seventh street between Harrison and Olney, easy payments; price $1,650.

Factory site, on railroad, at Madison and Tenth streets; price $6,000.

Two circle front lots together, in Fountain Park, each 87 feet wide Will sell separately. Price on corner one $750 and $600 on inside one.

Two houses, one six and other five rooms, at southwest corner Sixth and Boyd streets. Will sell together or separate. See me if you want good trade.

Good eight room house, 60 foot lot, sewerage in both bathroom and kitchen. South side Jefferson street, between Ninth and Tenth streets. Excellent home on easy payments to best resident part of city. Price, $5,000.

Good three room house on South Eighth street near Hinshaws, for only $375. Excellent as investment for rent, or home for colored man bargain.

No. 1740 Harrison street—in Fountain Park—new four room, nice house, 50 foot lot at $1,000, or this with adjoining vacant 50 foot lot $1200.

Seven room house on North side of Elizabeth street, third towards river from Sixth street, rents at $13 a month for $800.

Two houses on one lot at northwest corner Ninth and Ohio streets, total rents $20.50 per month. Price $2050. Easy payments.

No. 520 North Sixth street, rented by year to prompt paying tenant at $35 per month. Price $4,000.

No. 1036 Monroe street, excellent, 5 room house, 50 foot lot, very desirable home in first class neighborhood. Price $1950.

No. 1341 South Ninth street, rooms, hall, shade and fruit trees Price $900

Bargain for colored man in home at $600, $100 cash and balance in monthly payments. Situated on side Jones street between Eleventh and Twelfth, good 3 room house, on 4 lots.

50 lots in Fountain park at pr Deposits. from $125 to $1000, terms $10 third and $5 monthly payments.

No. 911 South Eleventh street, 3 room house, in good condition, a. Cashier, third cash and balance reasonable terms. Price $1000

Several corner lots on Olney at with adjoining inside lots to go with or ones if desired.

No. 410 North Fifth street, 3 room house, lot front 57 ft. 9 in with plenty grass and shade. Price $2250.

Cairo pike lots and on cross between Twelfth and Thirteenth south of the Griffith dairy at $100 up.

Six houses for rent, different prices, from $7 to $30-a Building

Several houses in Western for sale singly for homes or for investors, to whom low given, and if wanted easy payments.

No. 907 Clark street, an 7 room house, with sewer and all modern conveniences and Broadway

Want home at $2050.

Lot, northeast corner of Seventh, 57 ft. 9 inches front and back to alley, 10 REWARD for a case of obstinate

Several houses, both sewer and no pathology, my monthly total rents $45 per month; safe, harmless; well; healthy investment at $1800 cash and balance wanted.

Large number of Real Estate Agency, at prices from $50 up monthly payments.

200 Mechanics from $50 up. Easy prices.

No. 1236 Monroe house at $850.

W. M. J. 520 B'Way, N.Y.

W. M. J. 520 B'Way, N.Y.

CITIZENS SAVINGS BANK

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

For Further Information, reservations, tickets, etc., call on or address J. J. Landon, agent, Paducah Ky., C. C. McCarthy, G. P. A., St. Louis, A. H. Hanson, G. P. A., Louisville, A. H. Hanson, G. P. A., Chicago, Ill.

NASHVILLE, CHATTANOOGA & ST. LOUIS R.V.

In effect April 13, 1902.

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

St. Louis	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Charles	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm
St. Joseph	11:00am	1:00pm	3:00pm

A GENUINE PLAGUE

Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

Speedily Cured by Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills

When the Best Physicians and All Else Fail.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in eczema; the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worried parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum;—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take the Cuticura Resolvent Pills, to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete treatment, costing but one dollar, affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humours of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

(Continued From Third Page)

Pieper at his home in Rowlandtown on Wednesday evening by a number of his friends in honor of his 25th birthday. It was a most pleasant occasion and the merry party watched the Old Year out.

ENJOYABLE DANCE

The young men of the younger society set entertained with a dance on Friday evening at the Palmer house. It was quite a delightful social event and was largely attended, many out-of-town visitors arriving especially for the occasion.

NEW YEAR PARTY.

Miss Maybel Boyer entertained a party of her friends at the residence of her grandfather, Mr. George Rock, on Thursday evening. It was a most enjoyable occasion and the young people spent a most pleasant evening.

NICE AFFAIR.

The pupils of the First Baptist Sunday school were pleasantly entertained with a delightful supper in the lecture room of the church on Tuesday evening. It was a largely attended and enjoyable occasion.

RED MEN'S BALL.

The Otega tribe of Red Men celebrated New Year's eve with a large ball at their hall on North Fourth street. It was a very delightful occasion and greatly enjoyed by the guests.

PRETTY PARTY.

Little Miss Helea Van Meter entertained a number of her young friends most pleasantly at her home at Sixth and Court streets on Thursday evening in honor of little Miss Dolly Enders.

WATCH PARTY.

Miss Birdie Lee Jones of Broad street entertained a number of her friends with a watch party at her home on Wednesday evening. It was a very enjoyable occasion.

THE COMING WEEK.

The Delphic club meets on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Schwab will entertain the Whist club on Tuesday evening.

The Choral Society will meet at the First Christian church on Monday evening.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy meets with Mrs. James Koger, Jefferson street on Tuesday.

SANTAL MIDY
Standard remedy for Gonorrhea and Running IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

FIRST MESSAGE

Miss Clara Given of Memphis, is visiting Mrs. Mary Alexander.

Miss Lacy Thomas of Mayfield, is the guest of Miss Ethel Brooks.

Miss Margaret Parks of Mayfield is the guest of Miss Lula Reed of Jefferson street.

Miss Agnes Morris of Hopkinsville, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw.

Mr. Robert Scott and Mr. Edward Scott spent several days in Dyersburg this week.

Miss Mary Boswell has returned home from a pleasant visit to Evansville, Ind.

Miss Ruth Smith and Miss Lizzie Dallah of Mayfield, are visiting Miss May Davis this week.

Mrs. Adolph Weil and son Henry have returned from a visit to Mrs. Weil's former home, New Orleans.

Miss Anna Parks and Mr. Glen Parks are the guests of Mrs. Robert H. Phillips and Mr. Will Webb.

Miss Stella Kilgore and Miss Margie Kilgore of Bardwell are visiting Miss Kate Halliday of South Sixth street.

Miss Nell Briggs of Mayfield, is the guest of Miss Ida Leaks. She came to attend the dance of the younger society set.

Miss Frances Herndon returned home this week from Clarksville, Tenn., where she attended the big Christmas dinner.

Miss Rosalie Green and Miss Berta Green of Hopkinsville, were the guests of Miss Elsie Bagby for several days en route to Eldersville, Ky., to visit.

Miss Evelyn Walker has returned from a pleasant visit to Dyersburg, Tenn. Miss Frances Harris accompanied her home and will be the guest of the Misses Walker.

Mrs. Pat Henley and Mrs. W. H. Stokes came from Mayfield this week to attend the Otis Skinner performance at The Kentucky. They were the guests of Miss Sue Jones.

A party of Mayfield people attended the performance of Otis Skinner at The Kentucky Wednesday night as the guests of Mr. Emmett Carney.

The party was composed of Miss Willie Miller, Miss Jennie Wire, Mr. Erre Albritton, Mr. Robert Albritton and Mr. Emmett Carney.

Miss Anna Webb returns to Washington, D. C., tomorrow after spending the Christmas holidays with her mother, Mrs. John L. Webb, and sister, Mrs. Robert Phillips.

Miss Webb will spend next summer in Europe, so her friends here have made the most of this little glimpse of her.

Miss Mary Lee Clarke of this city was one of the charming girls who helped receive at a large debut party in Evansville on New Year's evening.

Miss Clarke has been spending Christmas in Henderson and went over to Evansville on Thursday. She is very popular in both Evansville and Henderson social life.

Secretary Stuart B. Hanna, of the Y.M.C.A., and Vaughan Dahney attended the state convention of the boys' department at Frankfort this week. Master Dahney who is exceptionally bright, read a very able paper. It was a very interesting session of an important branch and work of the Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Isaac Shelby Dallah of Palestine, Texas, and son Mr. Louis Dallah, who have been spending Christmas with relatives in the city, returned home this week. Mrs. Dallah will spend this winter at San Antonio, Texas, and did not make her visit here as long as usual, to the regret of her host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Flournoy arrived Thursday from Cartersville, Ga., where they were married on Wednesday evening. The party from Paducah who attended the wedding also returned that day. They were Mr. and Mrs. George Flournoy, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Campbell, Mrs. E. E. Ellis, Miss Caroline Sowell and Mr. W. F. Bradshaw, Jr. The wedding was a very beautiful and elaborate affair.

The Mayfield Messenger of Wednesday says: "Miss Mary Roberts and Henry Roberts gave a delightful o'clock dinner Tuesday evening in honor of their charming cousin, Miss Corlene Winstead of Paducah. Quite an enjoyable evening was spent. Those present were: Misses Corlene Winstead, Mary Wright, Jean Carter and Mary Louise Roberts; Messrs. Howard Gillum, Henry Roberts, Willie Wilson and Mrs. A. Philbrick of Louisville were here this week en route from Florida, where they had been on their bridal trip. Mrs. Philbrick was formerly Miss Vinnie Rambant of Como, Miss., and has visited Mrs. Henry Thompson here. Mr. Philbrick is the popular superintendent of the Louisville division of the I. O. and has many friends here. They were recently married in Memphis, Tenn.

Miss Laura Jobe, Miss Drew Cooke, Miss Ethel Hughes, and Miss Carrie Tomlin, popular young ladies of Jackson, Tenn., who have been visiting Miss Lillie Mae Winstead and Miss Blanche Hills, have been the recipients of much social notice. They were the guests of honor at several very charming affairs, in the way of dinners, luncheons and theater parties. Miss Jobe visited here last summer and won many friends during her short stay. She returned home this week but the others remained over for the New Year's dance.

Friends who have seen Miss Aline Bagby in New York report that she is studying very hard and has lost none of her ambition in Gotham. She is taking a two year course in one. She is most popular with her instructors at the Academy of Dramatic Art, and her talent and charm of manner have made some very influential friends in dramatic circles as well as among the "400." She has been the guest on several occasions of her cousin, Mr. Bagby, the celebrated musician, whose concerts at the Waldorf-Astoria are regular editions de l'ense, and has occupied his box.

Miss May Stockton who spent several months here last summer as a member of the English Stock company at the Kentucky, and is pleasantly remembered by many, has recently been playing in Salt Lake City, Utah. While there she was the guest of honor at a pretty six o'clock dinner given by Mrs. Clinton T. Leigh, a charming Kentuckian formerly of Owensboro and well known here. Miss Stockton is also a Kentucky girl, and the granddaughter of a pioneer Methodist minister of Logan county, Ky., from which region came Mrs. Leigh's ancestors also, so their meeting in far off Utah was a pleasant coincidence.

COUGHING SPELL CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Dec. 1, 1901."

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1 at DaBois and Co.'s.

COUNTY ROADS BETTER.

County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson has returned from the county and reports the county roads in much better condition than heretofore, despite the damage from the recent heavy rains. He has had a large force of men at work making repairs, and they are still doing a great deal of work.

HE FOUND A CURE.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years, have tried many doctors without relief, but I have found a cure in Herbine. I recommend it to all my friends who are afflicted that way, and it is curing them too." 50c at DaBois and Co.'s.

SMALLPOX IN THE COUNTY.

There is a great deal of smallpox in the county, principally in the Melber district. Several cases are pretty bad, but the majority are of a mild nature and no physician was called. All places where the disease has been found have been quarantined. No new cases are reported and all the old ones are convalescent.

PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. Cures all cases of Female Complaints, such as Pains in the Back, Head, Stomach, and Bowels, and all other ailments of the Female System. Buy of your Druggist or send for a free trial box. Price, 25c. Sold by DaBois and Co., 1212 1/2 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo.

MYSELF CURED.

I will gladly inform anyone addicted to COCAINE, MORPHINE, OPIUM or LAUDANUM of a never-failing harmless Home Cure. MRS. E. MARY BALDWIN, 1212 1/2 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Walker Jones, of Weyrus, Ohio, is prominent in society circles of that city. Instead of starving herself, she uses Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup, and her hands.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup is a powerful medicine for constipation, indigestion, and all other ailments of the digestive system. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all ages.

Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup

"Can eat almost anything"

As a cure for stomach troubles and as a laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup is the best. All druggists sell it, and $1.00 a bottle, or write for free sample to PEPSIN SYRUP CO., Mantoloking, N.J.

Twice Every Week

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat

The Great Newspaper of the World.

One Dollar a Year

Almost equal to a Daily at the price of a Weekly. The latest telegraphic news from all the World every Tuesday and Friday. Full and Correct Market Reports. A great variety of interesting and instructive reading matter for every member of the family. Unequaled as a Newspaper and Home Journal. Two papers every week. One Dollar a Year. SAMPLE COPIES FREE.

The Daily Globe-Democrat

Has no equal or rival among Western Newspapers, and ought to be in the hands of every reader of ANY daily paper.

Price, By Mail, Postage Prepaid:

Daily, Including Sunday	Daily, Without Sunday	Sunday Edition
One Year$6.00	One Year$4.00	48 to 60 Pages
6 Months$3.00	6 Months$2.00	One Year$2.00
3 Months$1.50	3 Months$1.00	6 Months$1.00

The Great World's Fair

Will be held at St. Louis in 1904, and the greatest St. Louis newspaper will be indispensable during the coming year.

SUBSCRIBE TO-DAY

THE GLOBE PRINTING CO., St. Louis, Mo.

New Richmond House Bar

SERVES

The Best Wines, Whiskey, Tobacco and Cigars in the city.

You Should Give Them a Call

R. E. DRENNAN PROPRIETOR

Buy from the Manufacturer.

We make

TRUNKS, TRAVELING BAGS, ETC. at 208 Broadway.

F. H. NIEMANN,

Paducah Trunk Manufacturer

The Smith Business College

A practical school of established reputation. Shorthand, Typewriting, Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Correspondence, etc. Open throughout the entire year. Student may enter at any time.

Address John D. Smith, Jr., No. 408 Corner Third and Madison Street. (MENTION THIS PAPER)

516 B

YE WHO LESS WELL VE HEED!

the procession

line by sending laundry to the company

TEAM LAUNDRY,

FFITH. PROP

200.

The World's Playground

Colorado,
Michigan, Canada,
The Adirondacks,
St. Lawrence River,
White Mountains,
Or the Sea Coast of New England.

Best reached by the "Big Four"

For full information and particulars as to routes, tickets, limits, etc., call on Agents "Big Four Route," or address the undersigned.

Warren J. Lynch, W. P. DEPPE,
Gen. Pass. & Ticket Agts.,
CINCINNATI, O.

S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agt.,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

CHEAP SETTLERS' RATES TO THE FAR WEST AND NORTHWEST.

The Burlington Route will renew the cheap one-way settlers' rates every day of September and October, 1903, to Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and California, such as $30.00 from St. Louis, $35.00 from Chicago, and $45.00 from Missouri River points, to California, Portland and Puget Sound territory; with correspondingly low rates to Spokane District and the Butte-Helena District.

The Burlington Route and its connections best reach the entire West and Northwest country. It is the main traveled road through the West. The map shows.

CHEAP ROUND TRIP TOURIST RATES TO COLORADO-UTAH.

During certain periods of August and September the Burlington will make such remarkably low first-class round trip rates to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo as $21.00 from St. Louis, $25.00 from the Missouri River and $35.00 from Chicago, good all summer, at other periods only one fare plus $2.00. Ask nearest ticket agent for details.

COOL MINNESOTA.

Very low tourist rates to Minnesota points daily, until September 15th.

HOMESEEKERS' EXCURSION.

First and third Tuesdays of August, September and October to many sections of the West and Northwest.

Round trip tickets with 21 days' limit. Consult your nearest ticket agent or write us of your proposed trip and let us advise you the least cost, send you our publications and otherwise assist you.

F. M. RUGG, L. W. WAKELEY,
Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agts.,
C. M. LEVEY, Gen'l Pass. & Ticket Agts.,
ST. LOUIS, MO.

RYMAN LINE.
NASHVILLE AND PADUCAH PACKET

Str. H. W. Butterft.

Leaves Paducah for Clarksville every Monday, 12 m.

Leaves Paducah for Nashville every Wednesday, 12 m.

Leaves Clarksville every Tuesday noon for Paducah.

Leaves Nashville every Saturday noon for Paducah.

For freight or passage apply on board or to Given Fowler, Agt. J. S. Tyner, W. A. Bishop, Master, Clerk.

ST. LOUIS AND TENNESSEE RIVER PACKET COMPANY.
FOR TENNESSEE RIVER

STEAMER CLYDE

Leaves Paducah for Tennessee River every Wednesday at 4 p. m.

LOUIS PELL, Master.

RUOHRN ROBINSON, Clerk.

Our company is not responsible for charges unless collected by the agent on board.

TRY OUR IMPORTED Black and Green MIXED TEAS

65c and 75c a pound.

BEST TEA ON EARTH

CHINESE LAUNDRY

[Work Guaranteed]

OUR SPECIALTY
HIGH GRADE DOMESTIC FINES ON COLLARS AND CUFFS.

No. 102 Broadway

The Knife Throwers

By FREDERIC VAN RENSSLAER DEY,
Author of "Not Like Other Men," Etc.

Copyright, 1901,
By Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey.

"He never told me that, sir."

"Do you know?"

"I think so—partly. I do know that it had nothing to do with his marriage, for he chose the name before we left New York, and he never saw her until after we arrived in Mexico. He went there on some business that had been his father's. He believed that he could best attend to it if he were not known. And you must remember one thing, sir—although people in Mexico knew him by a name not his own, his wife, although she never bore his right name openly, must have known what it was, for the letters he received were properly addressed. I believe others were deceived, but that she was not. Now, sir, I have really told you all I know. In fact, for I have made bold to conjecture a great deal. Perhaps out of it all you may find the missing links in the broken chain. I am sure I cannot help you any more unless you take me to Mexico and let me point out the house where he lived. That might help you, sir."

CHAPTER VII.

WYNDHAM'S GAME OF DOUBLES.

AFTER that there was a hiatus which lasted several weeks, during which nothing worthy of record here happened. Wyndham and Escudera continued to meet as they had done before, and there were other interviews between James and Wyndham, which, however, developed nothing new.

The letters sent to Mexico by Wyndham were answered, but from them he derived no information that was of benefit to him in his search for the distant mystery that had shrouded the life of Burr Pendleton.

With the exception that now and then some incident would recall the event to the memory of a reporter, the tragedy of which Pendleton was the victim was almost forgotten.

Even Wyndham himself began to despair of ultimate success, or, rather, he had about made up his mind to go to Mexico himself, where he believed the solution of the affair was located, when an event occurred which altered all his plans and which brought things ultimately to a climax.

He was sitting idly in the clubhouse one afternoon, wearily thinking over all that had occurred and endeavoring to decide what was best for him to do next, when one of the servants informed him that a lady in a carriage at the door wished to speak to him.

He rose wonderingly, for Craig Wyndham was in no sense a ladies' man. He never sought their society and, in fact, avoided them when he could. That one should drive to the clubhouse door and ask for him was so utterly unexpected that he was for the moment paralyzed. However, he obeyed the summons at once and in a short time was standing at the curb beside the vehicle.

The lady who had summoned him from the club occupied the rear seat of the carriage. Opposite her was another woman. Both were veiled. He rightly guessed that they were mistress and servant and therefore bestowed only one quick glance upon the woman who occupied the front seat. The other he regarded earnestly, for an instant only, while he tried in vain to peer through the meshes of her veil.

It was an artfully constructed affair, evidently arranged with an attempt to conceal the fact that it was intended for a disguise, and yet so cleverly worked that it effectually concealed the features of the wearer. Closely woven and doctored here and there by black spots and doubtless doubled, it was only sufficiently transparent to permit Wyndham to discern two glowing eyes behind it and to guess rather than to see that the face to which they belonged was young and beautiful.

Perhaps there was something in her voice which impressed that idea upon him, for he did not remember ever having heard one just like it before or one that suited him quite so well.

"Are you Mr. Craig Wyndham?" she asked the moment he approached her. He thought it seemed to him, and yet he was by no means sure—that there was a slight touch of nervousness in the words, such as a young girl for a long time at school abroad might acquire.

"Yes," he replied, "I am Craig Wyndham. I do not think, however, that I have the honor of your acquaintance," he added bluntly.

"No," she answered, "I am unknown to you, Mr. Wyndham. Will it serve as sufficient introduction for the present if I tell you that I was Mr. Pendleton's friend?"

"His friend—that is, his real friend—may count upon me as a friend, madam," was the diplomatic reply.

"Did he never mention to you one whose given name is Carmen?" she inquired next.

"Never."

"Did he not tell you about the duel in Mexico?" was her next question.

"He mentioned it; that is all. I never told the particulars."

"She was silent for a moment then, but suddenly she extended one hand toward him and he saw that it contained a card.

"I will not mystify you any longer, Mr. Wyndham," she said. "There is my card. I have written on it the name of the hotel where I am stopping. Would you like to hear the particulars of the duel to which I have already referred?"

"I should, very much indeed."

"If you will call upon me this evening, there is much that I would like to tell you. The woman who is with me now is my servant. She will be present when you call, but she does not understand a word of English. Will you come?"

"Most certainly I will come. Will you name the hour when you will expect me?"

"At 8. I have a private parlor, where we can converse undisturbed. Now, one more question, Mr. Wyndham."

He bowed, and she continued:

"Do you know of a gentleman who is here from Mexico, by name Escudera?"

"I do."

"I hope, for the present at least, that he may not learn of my presence in the city."

"Nobody will learn that fact from me. I can assure you of that."

"How abrupt and how direct you are, Mr. Wyndham! Too much of both in coping with such a man as Escudera, if you will pardon me for saying it. But I did not mean my remark as you understood it."

"Will you tell me what you did mean?"

"I will risk offending you and reply. I mean that I doubt very much if you go anywhere without the knowledge of that man, and therefore I hope that you will see to it tonight that you are not followed and therefore unconsciously betrayed me."

For the first time since the interview began Wyndham smiled.

"Thank you," he said. "I confess I had not thought of that possibility, but I think I may assure you that Señor Escudera will not know where I call this evening."

"In you speak Spanish, Mr. Wyndham?" she asked quite irrelevantly.

"Yes," he replied, still in English; "I speak several languages."

"Then if you will tell my coachman to return to the hotel I will be obliged. I gave him other orders when we started. He does not understand English."

"Does he understand the city sufficiently well to drive you about?"

"Quite so, thank you."

Wyndham raised his hat and closed the carriage door; then, having given the necessary directions to the driver and standing motionless while the vehicle rolled away, he turned and re-entered the club. As he mounted the steps he happened to raise his eyes and, peering at him from one of the windows, was the smiling and handsome face of Carlos Escudera, who nodded at him genially.

Wyndham could hardly repress a start of apprehension lest the Mexican had seen and recognized the lady or one of her servants. It was impossible to determine whether he had or not, but he recalled with sudden emphasis the word of warning that Carmen del Puente had given him.

He walked through to the back parlor of the club and, having seated himself beside the grate, dropped the card that he still held in his hand upon the coals and watched it until it had burned to ashes. Then with the poker he destroyed the ashes, punching them down among the glowing embers. As he straightened up in his chair he heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Have pity on a poor fellow, Wyndham," he said, "and give me the benefit of your society a little while. In my language there is no word which expresses my feelings, but in yours there is one which fits it exactly. It is homeliness. Did you ever experience it?"

"Often. Take a seat, Don Carlos. Have you an engagement for this evening?"

"No; nothing."

"Then I have an idea—one that will cheer you up, I hope. I will ask two or three others to join us at my rooms, and we will have a game of cards."

"That is kind of you, Wyndham."

"I'm not so sure of that. You may find the evening an expensive luxury."

"I'll take my chances of that," replied Escudera, with a grin. He was notoriously expert with cards and seldom lost.

"Suppose we make the affair an innovation?" continued Wyndham reflectively. "It is 3 o'clock now. We will begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure. I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that strike you?"

"As a good idea."

"Very well. Meet me at my rooms at 5. In the meantime I will have made up the party and have everybody on hand at that time."

This was agreed to, and the two men parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham lingered until he had gone and then looked up Hilggs, who was in the library.

"Carleton," he said, "I want you to do me a very great favor. May I depend upon you?"

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"

"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

"It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 4 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morning."

"I didn't know that you went for that sort of thing, Craig. And you know?"

"Wait; wait! I know, of course, that you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mystery. Do you understand—an engagement that I do not want anybody to know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to—yes."

"Well, this is what I want you to do. You will understand how thoroughly I trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a gentleman comes out and gets into his vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his horses can go to the corner of Thirty-third street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage alarm shut, when, without looking around, he will drive on and return to his stand, wherever that may be. You will give him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad to do it, but be particular to have him do it just as I have said. My own carriage will be awaiting me, and if anybody tries to follow me that person will have a good time of it. What do you think?"

"Excellent."

"Now for the remainder of your instructions. Rush into my room in the greatest haste, all out of breath, and all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something—anything—in my ear. I will look amazed and a trifle annoyed. I will say aloud, 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is at the door. Take that, and you will get there in time.' That ends your part of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me—important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you know, and ask you to take my hand and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it."

"You can count on me to the letter, Craig."

"I knew I could. There is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7."

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?"

"I cannot tell—an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?"

"Yes."

"Hilggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several notes, which he sent out by messenger boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and were evidently satisfactory, for Craig Wyndham did not look in the least worried when he left the club and repaired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the name of Thomas, only that the smooth face was covered by a heavy growth of beard dyed black and a perfectly made wig of the same hue. Add to that the fact that he rarely appeared when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation.

He was not, however, the person to whom Wyndham had referred in his talk with Escudera as "my man," so there was no danger that James would be seen by those who might recognize him.

At 5 precisely Don Carlos arrived, and by half past 5 the expected guests were all there. There was a luncheon prepared for them, but all claimed that in anticipation of the midnight dinner they had already "stayed their stomachs," so that it went untasted.

At 6 the game began, and it proceeded merrily without interruption for an hour and a half, when the doorbell rang, and an instant later Carleton Hilggs rushed in.

He played his part beautifully. There was not a hitch anywhere. Within ten minutes after he entered the room Craig Wyndham left it, rushed down the one flight of stairs to the street, leaped into the carriage and was driven away. And back in the parlor of his apartment the game went on almost without interruption.

If Escudera felt annoyance at this sudden departure of the host, he gave no sign of it. If there were, as Wyndham now suspected, others in his employ on the watch to do the footsteps of the American, they succeeded only in following an empty carriage to its stand along the western side of Madison square. As for Craig, he changed to the second vehicle without trouble and at 8 o'clock was in the presence of Escudera del Puente and her demure, but it was in a hotel much further up town than the Waldorf, and if there had been watchers on his track they would wait a long time before they could hope to discover him at that famous hostelry.

He heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Will you begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure. I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that strike you?"

"As a good idea."

"Very well. Meet me at my rooms at 5. In the meantime I will have made up the party and have everybody on hand at that time."

This was agreed to, and the two men parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham lingered until he had gone and then looked up Hilggs, who was in the library.

"Carleton," he said, "I want you to do me a very great favor. May I depend upon you?"

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"

"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

"It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 4 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morning."

"I didn't know that you went for that sort of thing, Craig. And you know?"

"Wait; wait! I know, of course, that you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mystery. Do you understand—an engagement that I do not want anybody to know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to—yes."

"Well, this is what I want you to do. You will understand how thoroughly I trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a gentleman comes out and gets into his vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his horses can go to the corner of Thirty-third street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage alarm shut, when, without looking around, he will drive on and return to his stand, wherever that may be. You will give him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad to do it, but be particular to have him do it just as I have said. My own carriage will be awaiting me, and if anybody tries to follow me that person will have a good time of it. What do you think?"

"Excellent."

"Now for the remainder of your instructions. Rush into my room in the greatest haste, all out of breath, and all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something—anything—in my ear. I will look amazed and a trifle annoyed. I will say aloud, 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is at the door. Take that, and you will get there in time.' That ends your part of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me—important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you know, and ask you to take my hand and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it."

"You can count on me to the letter, Craig."

"I knew I could. There is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7."

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?"

"I cannot tell—an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?"

"Yes."

"Hilggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several notes, which he sent out by messenger boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and were evidently satisfactory, for Craig Wyndham did not look in the least worried when he left the club and repaired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the name of Thomas, only that the smooth face was covered by a heavy growth of beard dyed black and a perfectly made wig of the same hue. Add to that the fact that he rarely appeared when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation.

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"

"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

"It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 4 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morning."

"I didn't know that you went for that sort of thing, Craig. And you know?"

"Wait; wait! I know, of course, that you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mystery. Do you understand—an engagement that I do not want anybody to know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to—yes."

"Well, this is what I want you to do. You will understand how thoroughly I trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a gentleman comes out and gets into his vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his horses can go to the corner of Thirty-third street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage alarm shut, when, without looking around, he will drive on and return to his stand, wherever that may be. You will give him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad to do it, but be particular to have him do it just as I have said. My own carriage will be awaiting me, and if anybody tries to follow me that person will have a good time of it. What do you think?"

"Excellent."

"Now for the remainder of your instructions. Rush into my room in the greatest haste, all out of breath, and all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something—anything—in my ear. I will look amazed and a trifle annoyed. I will say aloud, 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is at the door. Take that, and you will get there in time.' That ends your part of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me—important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you know, and ask you to take my hand and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it."

"You can count on me to the letter, Craig."

"I knew I could. There is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7."

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?"

"I cannot tell—an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?"

"Yes."

"Hilggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several notes, which he sent out by messenger boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and were evidently satisfactory, for Craig Wyndham did not look in the least worried when he left the club and repaired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the name of Thomas, only that the smooth face was covered by a heavy growth of beard dyed black and a perfectly made wig of the same hue. Add to that the fact that he rarely appeared when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation.

He was not, however, the person to whom Wyndham had referred in his talk with Escudera as "my man," so there was no danger that James would be seen by those who might recognize him.

At 5 precisely Don Carlos arrived, and by half past 5 the expected guests were all there. There was a luncheon prepared for them, but all claimed that in anticipation of the midnight dinner they had already "stayed their stomachs," so that it went untasted.

At 6 the game began, and it proceeded merrily without interruption for an hour and a half, when the doorbell rang, and an instant later Carleton Hilggs rushed in.

He played his part beautifully. There was not a hitch anywhere. Within ten minutes after he entered the room Craig Wyndham left it, rushed down the one flight of stairs to the street, leaped into the carriage and was driven away. And back in the parlor of his apartment the game went on almost without interruption.

If Escudera felt annoyance at this sudden departure of the host, he gave no sign of it. If there were, as Wyndham now suspected, others in his employ on the watch to do the footsteps of the American, they succeeded only in following an empty carriage to its stand along the western side of Madison square. As for Craig, he changed to the second vehicle without trouble and at 8 o'clock was in the presence of Escudera del Puente and her demure, but it was in a hotel much further up town than the Waldorf, and if there had been watchers on his track they would wait a long time before they could hope to discover him at that famous hostelry.

He heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Will you begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure. I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that strike you?"

"As a good idea."

"Very well. Meet me at my rooms at 5. In the meantime I will have made up the party and have everybody on hand at that time."

This was agreed to, and the two men parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham lingered until he had gone and then looked up Hilggs, who was in the library.

"Carleton," he said, "I want you to do me a very great favor. May I depend upon you?"

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"

"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

"It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 4 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morning."

"I didn't know that you went for that sort of thing, Craig. And you know?"

"Wait; wait! I know, of course, that you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mystery. Do you understand—an engagement that I do not want anybody to know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to—yes."

"Well, this is what I want you to do. You will understand how thoroughly I trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a gentleman comes out and gets into his vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his horses can go to the corner of Thirty-third street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage alarm shut, when, without looking around, he will drive on and return to his stand, wherever that may be. You will give him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad to do it, but be particular to have him do it just as I have said. My own carriage will be awaiting me, and if anybody tries to follow me that person will have a good time of it. What do you think?"

"Excellent."

"Now for the remainder of your instructions. Rush into my room in the greatest haste, all out of breath, and all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something—anything—in my ear. I will look amazed and a trifle annoyed. I will say aloud, 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is at the door. Take that, and you will get there in time.' That ends your part of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me—important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you know, and ask you to take my hand and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it."

"You can count on me to the letter, Craig."

"I knew I could. There is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7."

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?"

"I cannot tell—an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?"

"Yes."

"Hilggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several notes, which he sent out by messenger boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and were evidently satisfactory, for Craig Wyndham did not look in the least worried when he left the club and repaired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the name of Thomas, only that the smooth face was covered by a heavy growth of beard dyed black and a perfectly made wig of the same hue. Add to that the fact that he rarely appeared when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation.

He was not, however, the person to whom Wyndham had referred in his talk with Escudera as "my man," so there was no danger that James would be seen by those who might recognize him.

At 5 precisely Don Carlos arrived, and by half past 5 the expected guests were all there. There was a luncheon prepared for them, but all claimed that in anticipation of the midnight dinner they had already "stayed their stomachs," so that it went untasted.

At 6 the game began, and it proceeded merrily without interruption for an hour and a half, when the doorbell rang, and an instant later Carleton Hilggs rushed in.

He played his part beautifully. There was not a hitch anywhere. Within ten minutes after he entered the room Craig Wyndham left it, rushed down the one flight of stairs to the street, leaped into the carriage and was driven away. And back in the parlor of his apartment the game went on almost without interruption.

If Escudera felt annoyance at this sudden departure of the host, he gave no sign of it. If there were, as Wyndham now suspected, others in his employ on the watch to do the footsteps of the American, they succeeded only in following an empty carriage to its stand along the western side of Madison square. As for Craig, he changed to the second vehicle without trouble and at 8 o'clock was in the presence of Escudera del Puente and her demure, but it was in a hotel much further up town than the Waldorf, and if there had been watchers on his track they would wait a long time before they could hope to discover him at that famous hostelry.

He heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Will you begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure. I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that strike you?"

"As a good idea."

"Very well. Meet me at my rooms at 5. In the meantime I will have made up the party and have everybody on hand at that time."

This was agreed to, and the two men parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham lingered until he had gone and then looked up Hilggs, who was in the library.

"Carleton," he said, "I want you to do me a very great favor. May I depend upon you?"

"Certainly, Craig. What is it?"

"I have got a party on hand at my rooms for tonight, and I want you to be one of us."

"It strikes me that the obligation is on the other side, old man."

"Wait. You have not heard me through. The party is to convene at 5. At 4 we are to begin a game of poker, which is to last until 6 in the morning."

"I didn't know that you went for that sort of thing, Craig. And you know?"

"Wait; wait! I know, of course, that you cannot afford such things, and you do right in keeping out of them, but this is an extreme case. I have another engagement for tonight, one that is very important, one that I must keep and which I desire to remain a mystery. Do you understand—an engagement that I do not want anybody to know about, an important business engagement; understand?"

"I begin to—yes."

"Well, this is what I want you to do. You will understand how thoroughly I trust you. At half past 7 precisely I want you to drive to my door in a four wheeler that you will have engaged at Madison square or anywhere, so that it is not here at the club. Pay the driver in advance. Tell him to hurry to my door, and tell him when a gentleman comes out and gets into his vehicle he is to start off at once without a word and drive as fast as his horses can go to the corner of Thirty-third street and turn the corner toward Sixth avenue. There, after he has turned the corner, he will pull up until he hears the door of his carriage alarm shut, when, without looking around, he will drive on and return to his stand, wherever that may be. You will give him $5 for his trouble. He will be glad to do it, but be particular to have him do it just as I have said. My own carriage will be awaiting me, and if anybody tries to follow me that person will have a good time of it. What do you think?"

"Excellent."

"Now for the remainder of your instructions. Rush into my room in the greatest haste, all out of breath, and all that. We will be at the game. Say something apologetic for interrupting us and then whisper something—anything—in my ear. I will look amazed and a trifle annoyed. I will say aloud, 'At the Waldorf?' You will reply: 'Yes, and they are going away in an hour. I knew that you wanted particularly to see them, and I have looked everywhere for you. At last it struck me that you might be here. My cab is at the door. Take that, and you will get there in time.' That ends your part of the scheme. I will ask the others to excuse me—important business, won't keep me an hour, and all that, you know, and ask you to take my hand and play for me till I return. You consent, and I'll do the rest. Will you do it all, Carleton? I'll never forget it."

"You can count on me to the letter, Craig."

"I knew I could. There is some money. I don't know how much, but never mind; don't let anybody see you take it. Remember, half past 7."

"I'll be there. Will you be long away?"

"I cannot tell—an hour or two or three at the most. Play my hand freely. I won't mind if you lose considerably to keep them interested. You understand?"

"Yes."

"Hilggs, you're a trump. I cannot tell you how you have relieved me."

After that Wyndham wrote several notes, which he sent out by messenger boys, with instructions to bring replies. They were all in by half past 4 and were evidently satisfactory, for Craig Wyndham did not look in the least worried when he left the club and repaired to his own apartments, which, by the way, were the same that had formerly been occupied by Burr Pendleton. The servant who waited upon him there also looked strangely like James. However, he answered to the name of Thomas, only that the smooth face was covered by a heavy growth of beard dyed black and a perfectly made wig of the same hue. Add to that the fact that he rarely appeared when his master had company, and you have grasped the situation.

He heard the soft voice of Carlos Escudera behind him.

"Will you begin the game at 6 precisely and play till 6 in the morning. I can make up a party to do that, I'm sure. I'll have my man serve us something good to eat at midnight. How does that strike you?"

"As a good idea."

"Very well. Meet me at my rooms at 5. In the meantime I will have made up the party and have everybody on hand at that time."

This was agreed to, and the two men parted. Escudera left the club at once, but Wyndham lingered until he had gone and then looked up Hilggs, who was in the library.

"Carleton," he said, "I want you to do me a very great favor. May I depend upon you?"

Advice to the Aged.

Age brings infirmities, such as aching bowels, weak kidneys and bladder and TORPID LIVER.

Tutt's Pills

have a specific effect on these organs, stimulating the bowels, causing them to perform their natural functions as in youth and to the kidneys, bladder and LIVER. They are adapted to old and young.

IMPARTING VIGOR

SOME STARTLING REVELATIONS.

"ARE you quite sure that you were not followed?" she inquired after their greetings were over.

"Quite so, senorita," replied Wyndham, with a smile.

Then in a few words he related all that he had done to elude such a possibility, and she laughed heartily at his description.

Craig Wyndham had prepared to eschew counter beauty when he entered the presence of Carmen del Puente, and yet when the reality was before him he was conscious of a shock of surprise. Beauty in woman had never affected him beyond the point of mere admiration, but the earnest, steadfast eyes, perfect features and high character that shone in the face of Carmen del Puente awoke some hitherto dormant sense of appreciation within him. Before he had been ten minutes in her presence he felt as if they were old friends, as if somehow or somewhere they had known each other always.

There were sincerity, truth, earnestness, high purpose and indomitable resolution in every expression of her features, in every gesture she made, and Wyndham, who rarely trusted anybody until that person had been thoroughly tried, felt that he might with complacency put implicit trust in this woman.

"We have a long interview before us, Mr. Wyndham," she said presently. "I want you to be comfortable and thoroughly at your ease, so I have taken the liberty of providing some very excellent cigars for you to smoke. You need not hesitate. You know, in my country we are accustomed to tobacco smoke. You will be more comfortable if you can waste your temper on the end of a cigar when I say things to annoy or astonish you."

He took her at her word without comment. They sat opposite each other at one end of the room, while the duenna remained at the other, industriously sewing or knitting or doing drawwork. Wyndham could not tell which.

"I believe our talk was to be about the duel," he began by way of opening.

"I think," she replied slowly, "that the duel is only an incident among many others we are likely to discuss. I told you this afternoon that I was a former friend of Mr. Pendleton. That statement was quite true, though somewhat misleading. I was his friend, but I did not know it. It is possible that he regarded me in a contrary light. It is strange, if he mentioned the duel to you, he did not speak of me."

"He might have done so, senorita, had his life been spared a few hours more. We were to have discussed his affairs the evening of his death, but he was murdered before I arrived."

"Murdered?"

She leaped to her feet with flashing eyes and for support grasped the back of the chair on which she had been seated. For a moment she stood gasping, wide-eyed, at Wyndham, and then slowly she resumed her seat.

"Did you not know that he was murdered?" asked Wyndham calmly.

"No. I knew that he was dead, of course. Word came to me of that in a letter from this city, but there was nothing said about violence."

"The papers were full of the affair."

"Ah, yes. But such news seldom reaches us in Mexico. Murdered! My God! It is awful! I should have warned him of his danger. I might have done so, but I did not regard it as necessary. Tell me about it, Mr. Wyndham."

"There is not much that I can tell. The affair is a great mystery. I believe the detectives are still at work upon the case, but only in the effort to find a man whom I know to be innocent."

"Tell me about it," she repeated.

"Tell me all you know about it."

She uttered the words in the tone of one who has the right to know, and Wyndham, with sudden confidence that was inexplicable to himself, complied. He related in detail everything that occurred from the moment when he first met Pendleton after his return from Mexico until the discovery of the body and the sending away of old James in order that he might be suspected. Two things only he omitted—he did not mention the fact that he suspected Escudera of the crime, and he said nothing about his belief that an explanation of the motive could be found in

A New Year Resolution

I shall buy all my shoes from LENDLER & LYDON

Because

They Sell None But Honest Goods
They Guarantee Every Shoe
They Sell Shoes For $6.00
They Sell Shoes For $2.00
They Sell the Best Shoe
Each Price Can Buy

"I Need the Mon."

LENDLER & LYDON,

The People Who Save You Money on Every Purchase.

J. E. COULSON,

...Plumbing...

Steam and Hot Water Heating.

Phone 133.

529 Broadway.

FOUR SWELL RIGS

GO TO TULLY'S.

When you ride you want the best of horses and vehicles.
That's the only kind we have.

TULLY LIVERY CO.,

FOURTH AND COURTH.

THE BEST COAL

Is the Coal that makes the least dust and burns freely. That's what ours does. Let us fill your house.

PHONES 171 & 263. OVERSTREET COAL CO.

SCOTT HARDWARE CO.

BIG WHITE STORE. BROADWAY.

2½ Tons will heat your home comfortably with a FAVORITE HEATER.

Even if hard coal costs $10 per ton it would be cheaper for you in the Favorite Base Burner than $6 coal in other makes. This is a positive fact and Scott, the stove dealer, will prove it to you or refund your money.
It beats using soft coal at any price.

It heats using gas and we all know about using gas in zero weather.

All people have been more or less worried on the fuel subject. The Favorite Base Burner will positively settle your worry in the most satisfactory and economical way.

IN THE CHURCHES

Ev. Lutheran church, South Fourth street: Sunday school 9 a. m. German preaching 10:15 a. m. English preaching 7:30 p. m. Meeting of voting members at 2:30 p. m.

The Rev. J. W. Sykes, the rector of Grace church, in a letter to the senior warden advises that he will reach here in time for services tomorrow.
There will therefore be services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

The Christian Scientists will hold their services in their new hall known as Stegar's hall, corner Sixth and Jackson Sunday at 10:30 a. m.
Subject, God. Sunday school at 9:30
a. m. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:30 p. m. Everybody cordially invited.

Services at the Mechanicsburg Methodist Episcopal church at 10:30 and 7:30 and Sunday school at 9:15.
Subject for the evening sermon "God's Walehman. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening. Every one welcome. Rev. Robert A. Cummins, Pastor.

At Tenth street Christian church Sunday school at 9:30. It is hoped to have a very full attendance. Communion at 10:45. Every member of the church urged to be present for conference and considering the best interests of the church. All friends will be welcome.

Broadway Methodist church: Sunday school 9:30 a. m. J. D. Smith Jr., Supt. Preaching by Pastor, Rev. T. J.
Newell 11 a. m. 7:30 p. m. Subject at 11 a. m. "The Holy Sacrament." Subject, at 7:30 a. m. "The Plea for More Time." League meets at 6:30 p. m.
Prayer service Wednesday 7:30 p. m.

Next week will be observed as "Week of Prayer" by a number of the churches of the city, and there will be union services every night at the Broadway Methodist church. An interesting program has been arranged by the Ministerial Association, with helpful topics to be discussed by several ministers each evening.

Second Baptist church, corner Ninth and Ohio streets, W. H. Robinson, pastor. Services at 11 a. m. and 7:30
p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.
There will be no prayer meeting this week on account of the week of prayer which will be a union meeting held at the Broadway Methodist church in which it is expected that all congregations will take part.

First Baptist church: Pastor G. W.
Perryman will preach both morning and evening and is anxious to have all members present as work will be laid out for the year. G. M. McNeilly will address the Young People's meeting at 6:30. Dr. J. W. Hall one of the greatest preachers in the south will begin a meeting with the pastor
two weeks from tomorrow.

There will be no German preaching at the Evangelical church as both services will be conducted in the English language.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Children's service at 10:30 a. m. The usual service at 7:30 a. m. The pastor,
B. F. Walfrum, desires that all parents come with their children to the morning service. Visitors and strangers are heartily invited to attend.

Regular services tomorrow at the Cumberland Presbyterian church.
Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
by the pastor, Rev. J. O. Reid. Subject of the morning sermon, "Redeeming the Time." Subject for the evening,
"The Christian as Citizen." Before beginning the evening sermon Mr.
Reid will call attention to some features of the opinion recently rendered by the city judge on the saloon closing question. Everybody invited.

The usual services may be expected at the First Presbyterian church corner Seventh and Jefferson streets, by the pastor Rev. W. E. Cava, D. D., tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.
Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Mr. I. M.
Kieker, Supt. Sunday school at Miz-pan Mission at 2:30 p. m. Mr. George H. Hart, Supt. Sunday school at Hebron Mission at 2:30 p. m. Mr. J. D.
Mcneilly, Supt. Mr. George H. Hart will conduct services at Mizpah Mission Sabbath night at 7:30 o'clock.

At the First Christian church, southeast corner of Seventh and Jefferson streets, there will be service at 10:15
a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Mr. Pinkerton's subject at 7:30 p. m. will be "The Revelation of Christ's Temptations to New Year Resolutions. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Junior Endeavor at 2:30 p. m. Senior Endeavor at 6: 30 p. m. It is important that every member of the church should be present at the morning service. The

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River
23.8 on the gauge, a fall of 0.7 in last 24 hours. Wind northwest, a light breeze. Weather raining and colder.
Rainfall in last 24 hours 0.10 inches.
Temperature 36. Pelt, Observer.

The Carraville is here from Cumberland river.

The Dick Fowler cleared today on time for Cairo.

The John S. Hopkins is today's Evansville packet.

The Bullock is due tomorrow from Cumberland river.

The Charleston is due tomorrow from Tennessee river.

The Cowling missed one trip yesterday on account of the fog.

The Russell Lord will go into Tennessee river today after tea.

The Tennessee will leave tonight at 6 o'clock for Tennessee river with a good trip.

The Alice Brown is lying at Humphries Creek, near Cairo waiting for the ice in the Mississippi river to thin out.

The Bonanza is due tomorrow from Memphis to Cincinnati. The Sunshine is being repaired at Cincinnati. She has a hole knocked in her during the last trip and will not be able to run again for several days.
The Bonanza will be the next boat down for Memphis.

Captain John Lovelace, 75, one of the best known steamboat men of Nashville, and for years on the Cumberland and Ohio, died at his home there from general debility. He built the boats J. W. Thomas, Elia Dora Cahler, Malt E. Allen, J. S. Brao-ford and John W. Hart.

Official board for 1908 will be installed, a report of the church's condition will be made and other business attended to.

Windsor Chapel: Gospel meeting at the Union Mission 431 South Third street, every night this winter at 7:30. Everybody made welcome.
December 1907 was the first month of the 25th year. Full of labor and success, with the Xmas tree, greatly enhanced and long to be remembered by an essay entitled, "The Hell Bound Train," by Miss Annie May King of Meath, Ky., and a solo, entitled, "The Silent Night," by Miss Olga Arnold of 428 South Third street, Paducah, Ky., both very clear and impressive, coming from two bright girls of 12 years old. The mission workers are hopeful of this being the best year of the work, and earnestly request the prayers of God's children and the cooperation of the public. R. W. CHILES, Pastor.

Dr. J. W. Smith of Marion, Ky., is in the city on business.

The Kentucky

Management of JAMES E. ENGLISH
Tuesday Night Jan. 6.

Sam T. Jack's.

OWN
BURLESQUE CO.

Headed by Mabel Hazelton,
the Queen of Burlesque, presenting two new

Extravaganzas Polite Vaudeville
and Sam T. Jack's original

LIVING PICTURES

Illustrated by Beautiful - WOMEN

For Men Only

Prices $1, 75c, 50c, 35c, and 25c
Seats on Sale Monday 9 a. m.

Before Christmas

You bought for others. Now is the time to buy for yourself.

A Smash in Prices at

Harbour's Book Department

We don't carry over our Christmas Stocks. All Christmas goods at

Less than Cost

Come quick if you want them.

THE FATAL SPOT

In everybody's foot there is one weak spot—The toes are strong, the ball of the foot is firm, the heel is unyielding, but the ARCH of the foot under the instep is a weak place. Being arched it is wholly unsupported—being weak its the one place that gets tired, but all the same its the muscle by which you walk, its the one part of the foot that needs to be helped.

The Dorothy Dodd Shoe

supports the arch of the foot by a special curved shank between the inner and outer soles, this shank exactly follows the arch of the foot. It holds its shape and supports the foot.

Respectfully,

Dorothy Dodd

They cost $3.00 and you can get them at ROCK'S.

"WE AIM TO PLEASE AND SATISFY THE PEOPLE."
F. M. Kirby, President. R. E. Ashbrook, Vice-President & General Manager. Frederick C. Kirkendall, Secretary & Treasurer.

People's Independent Telephone Company.

DIRECTORS

R. E. ASHBROOK
J. M. LANG
W. M. REED
G. H. DAVIS

Telephone Building

118 South Fifth Street

Paducah, Ky.

DIRECTORS

F. M. KIRBY
J. P. GORMAN
F. C. KIRKENDALL
D. C. ALLEN
GEO. R. MCKEAN
Wilkesbarre, Pa.

To the People of Paducah:

Our telephone plant is nearing completion and will be an up to date system in every particular.

We come before you as a public enterprise believing that our progressive city should not be behind the other cities in this greatest of public conveniences. We propose to let the people be the judge as to the merit of our business and the service to be given, and all we ask is an opportunity to demonstrate our claims.

Our rates are reasonable and will be made known on application.

Our apparatus and telephones are the latest and best made.

Asking a consideration of our claims and promising to carry out our motto of, "We aim to please and satisfy the people," we are,
Very respectfully,

People's Independent Telephone Company,

Temporary Office
415½ Broadway

By R. E. ASHBROOK,
Vice-President and General Manager.

YOU WILL NEVER KNOW

until you try them

The Money Saved in our Shoes

Meiers Union Extra
$3, $3.50 and $4

Johansen Bros.'

O. K. $2.00
Nunsuch $2.50
Uno $3.00

Rubbers to Keep Your Feet Warm at Runge's Shoe Store 121 S. 3d St.

Fruit Cakes Fruit Cakes

Call at the

Vienna Cream Bakery

and select your cake for Christmas. Buy only the Blue Label Bread made by us.

Phone 727 508 Broadway Phone 727

CITY TRANSFER CO.

C. L. VAN MEIER, Manager.

ALL KINDS OF TRANSFERING, MOVING AND HEAVY HAULING MACHINERY A SPECIALTY.

OFFICE—River front, between Court and Washington streets. Telephone, No.
79. All orders, large or small, will receive prompt attention.